Shipping Board Steamer Polar Land Lost At Sea---No Trace of Crew

SINKS 75 MILES OFF CAPE BRETON

British Steamer Rushed to Aid of Polar Land But Found No Trace of Crew

Another Rescue Ship Searching for Missing Men—Other Ships Damaged

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The shipping board steamer Polar Land reported yesterday from Halifax as abandoned 75 miles off Cape Breton, has sunk and another ship that responded to the wireless calls for help is "endeavoring to rescue the crew from the life boats," a wireless message to the agents here stated today. The name of the rescue ship is not given, but it is presumed to be the British steamer Kanawha.

The Polar Land was managed and operated by the West India Steamship Co.

No Trace of Crew
HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 10.—The steamer Kanawha has found no trace of the crew of the Polar Land after a four hours' search in the vicinity of the lost ship's position reported before she went down, according to a wireless message from the Kanawha today.

The steamer Strathmillan reported by wireless that she would reach at noon the position where the Polar Land went down. She will renew the search for the crew which was abandoned by the Kanawha when she resumed her voyage to England.

BOARD OF TRADE

PRESIDENT RETURNS

John M. O'Donoghue, president of the Lowell board of trade, has returned from an extensive trip in southern New England and New York city taken for the purpose of studying chamber of commerce activities and successful methods adopted for increasing memberships. Mr. O'Donoghue visited New London, Providence, Bridgeport and New York, among other places, and received valuable information relative to various phases of chamber of commerce activities in all these cities. He was especially impressed by the modern hotels which several of these cities have secured through their chamber of commerce and while in New York he visited the office of a large hotel company to discuss the building of a hotel in this city. He will make a detailed report of his trip to the board of directors at their next meeting to be held November 15.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A very enjoyable miscellaneous shower was held last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ann Cutress, 19 E street in honor of Miss Molly Higgins, who is soon to be the bride of Mr. Owen Cox. Miss Higgins received very beautiful gifts, among them being cut glass and silverware. The party broke up at a late hour wishing the bride to be joy and happiness in her new life.

Labor Leaders Say Union Officers Will Not Comply With Court Order

"Up to Courts; No Time to Get Cold Feet," Says Sec. Tumulty

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Labor leaders predicted today that international officers of the United Mine Workers of America, meeting at Indianapolis, would not call off the coal strike as directed by Federal Judge Anderson, whatever the legal consequences might be.

White house officials refused today to comment on the American Federation of Labor statement.

"The situation is in the hands of the courts," Secretary Tumulty said, adding: "This is no time to get cold feet."

HUNT BODIES IN RUINS OF $1,000,000 FIRE

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 10.—Search was continued today for bodies in the ruins of the spectacular fire yesterday at Waggoner City, a small oil town near here. The property loss was estimated at $1,000,000. The fire was caused by lightning exploding 33 barrels of oil. A stream of the burning fluid poured down the main streets setting fire to everything with which it came in contact.

As far as known only one person, an aged unidentified man supposed to be from Atlanta, Ga., was killed, but many persons received burns and one thousand were made homeless.

About 50 business buildings and residences were destroyed and hundreds who were living in tents lost their places of shelter as well as personal belongings.

FOR ENTRANCE TO NAVAL ACADEMY

Willard D. Sullivan and Daniel P. Martin of this city are among the four young men heading the list of candidates for entrance to the Annapolis Naval academy as the result of an examination held at city hall several weeks ago. Sullivan and Martin, in company with another candidate from Woburn and one from Concord, took their physical examinations at the Charlestown navy yard last Saturday. They were told that they would be notified of their final ranks on Wednesday of this week.

FIGHT OVER RESERVATIONS

Opposing Factions in Treaty Ratification Struggle Line Up in Senate

Today's Contest Revolves Around Reservation Relating to Article 10

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—With apparently little change in the program of procedure developed over the weekend, opposing factions in the peace treaty ratification fight lined up today for a continuation of the struggle over reservations. Today's contest revolved around the reservation relating to Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, which was recommended by the foreign relations committee and which the administration senators desired most of all to defeat.

The only step discussed today that might hasten consideration of the treaty was the possibility that republican leaders might propose closure to curtail the protracted debate. In this plan they were said to be supported by a number of democrats.

Except for the transportation of one phrase, the reservation to Article 10 is the same as that which President Wilson declared during his western trip he would regard as a rejection of the treaty. Its text follows:

"The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity for political independence of any other country or to interfere in controversies between nations, whether members of the League or not, under the provisions of Article 10 or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States under any article of the treaty or any purpose, unless in any particular case the congress which, under the constitution, has the sole power to declare war or authorize the employment of the military or naval forces of the United States shall, by act or joint resolution so provide."

Numerous amendments had been prepared by senators, who wanted to make the provision more drastic and considerable debate was expected but leaders hoped for a final roll call before adjournment tonight.

Mr. Murphy suggested that the objection of the conference was to get the men back to work as soon as possible so that they might help appease the country-wide demand for more production. "They have done just the opposite in my experience," he said.

Mr. Murphy replied that the matter worked both ways, but in the majority

Heroes—Special Church Services Tomorrow

Armistice day, the first anniversary of the signing of the agreement which brought to a practical termination the world war, will be fittingly observed in Lowell tomorrow, although the day's program will be purely informal.

The municipal authorities have arranged no civic observance but the commercial activities of the city will be practically at a standstill and many of the churches plan services in memory of the world war heroes who made the supreme sacrifice.

The observance really began today when the schools of the city held informal exercises to commemorate the virtual ending of the great war. At the high school a formal program was carried out in the school hall but in

TRYING TO SETTLE THE MOULDERS' STRIKE

In an effort to settle the strike of moulders which has been in progress in Lowell since last May, a conference of representatives of the local moulders' union and representatives of local foundries was held in the mayor's reception room at city hall today before Bernard F. Supple of the State Board of Arbitration and Conciliation. The conference ended in a virtual deadlock but enough progress toward the settlement of the strike was made to warrant another conference Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the same place.

The moulders were represented by Charles E. Anderson, secretary of the local trades and labor council; Eugene L. Murphy, representing the moulders of this district; George H. Keating and Michael Larkin. The local foundries, employers of the men, were represented by William C. Doherty, John Doherty, James P. Robinson, J. F. Lang, F. S. Peavy and Patrick Ryan.

The striking moulders have asked for a reduction in the number of their working hours from 56 to 48 per week and an increase in wages from $5.25 per day to $5.50.

There was fairly general sentiment expressed by the employers at this morning's conference in favor of 48 hours' work per week but J. F. Lang, representing the Lamson Co., said that he "couldn't see" 48 hours per week, but would consider 50.

Mr. Murphy suggested that the objection of the conference was to get the men back to work as soon as possible so that they might help appease the country-wide demand for more production. "They have done just the opposite in my experience," he said.

Mr. Murphy replied that the matter worked both ways, but in the majority

Efforts of Red Cross Roll Call Workers Redoubled Today

Team Workers and Executive Committee to Meet This Evening

All the energies of the Red Cross roll call workers were redoubled today in the final effort to place the city in the honor list in the total number of memberships enrolled. Tonight the team workers and executive committee members will meet to give and hear the final results and although there still remain a few straggling reports, the bulk is expected to be turned in.

After the meeting last Friday evening there still remained at least 15,000 memberships to obtain in the city and at this time it is impossible to gauge how close to this figure the campaign has come. The week-end was a busy one as the goal was far away, but the campaign directors feel confident that with the mills reporting this evening and the teams turning in large reports the 20,000 total will be reached.

W. N. Goodell, treasurer of the roll call, was at the Union National bank all day today for the purpose of receiving memberships and he reported a brisk business at the noon hour. Excellent results were obtained by the young women in charge of the booth in the Chaffoux store on Saturday. They were materially assisted by Miss Marguerite Fields, leading woman of the Lowell Players at the Opera House, who spent considerable time at the booth soliciting subscriptions.

No authentic reports have been received as yet from the outside towns included in North Middlesex district, but these will be in tonight.

Of instances these committees urged greater rather than less production. He said that it was the duty of a shop committee to take up the grievance of any individual moulder and if the committee could not give him satisfaction to bring the matter to the foreman and later, if necessary, to the higher officials of the plant. Mr. Lang said that no grievances had been brought to him in the Lamson plant.

Mr. Lang said that he had only limited powers in the conference as he was not an agent for his firm. But inasmuch as he was unable to make money by paying moulders $5.25 per day, he couldn't see where he was going to benefit by paying $5.50. He said that he had to consider the proposition as a cold matter of business. He was agreeable to adjournment until a later date so that he might gather more data on the matter.

At 12:20 it was agreed to adjourn until 10 a. m. next Wednesday. This morning's conference was held as a result of the efforts of Mayor Perry D. Thompson.

LEGION HOLDS CONVENTION

2000 Delegates, From All Branches of Service at Opening Session

Gov. Burnquist and Mayor Meyers Among Speakers—Message From Foch

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 10.—Two thousand delegates, representing all sections and classes of service men and women attended the opening session of the first convention of the American Legion here today.

Governor Burnquist, President Cyrus Northrop, president emeritus of the University of Minnesota and Mayor Meyers delivered brief speeches. Henry D. Lindsley of Texas, national chairman, presided.

Discussion of candidates for national officers, with at least a dozen prominently mentioned for first national head of the legion, has brought an emphatic refusal from at least one delegate.

"When I say no, I mean no," declared Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, one of the delegates from New York, when his candidacy was mentioned. Others receiving support from their state delegations include Col. Milton J. Foreman of Chicago, Henry D. Lindsley of Texas, Col. Benson W. Hough of Ohio, and Thomas S. Wolsey of Louisiana.

Greetings from Marshal Foch, allied commander-in-chief, were transmitted by J. J. Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States.

ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Accused of manslaughter in connection with the death of Martin Clark, a Lagrange court, who was struck and almost instantly killed by an automobile on upper Gorham street, yesterday afternoon, Dr. Michael B. Keen of Manchester, N. H., pleaded not guilty in police court today and was held in $2000 for hearing Dec. 1.

According to the police Dr. Keen's machine struck Clark about 2:30 o'clock as the latter was crossing the street, a short distance beyond the city limits, fracturing his skull. Clark was taken to St. John's hospital in the doctor's car and died soon afterwards. Dr. Keen reported the accident to the police and furnished security for his appearance today.

Clark is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ellen Clark, and a brother John, both of Lowell. The body was removed to the home of his nephew, Joseph Normandy, 759 Broadway. Funeral arrangements in charge of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

POLICE LOOKING FOR HOUSE THIEVES

Three bold robberies over the week and just passed, apparently all the work of the same man, have caused the Lowell police to start an investigation which, they aver will bear fruit in the very near future.

The home of Mrs. Mary A. Callahan, at Pleasant and Sherman streets, was broken into shortly before 9 p. m. yesterday and $150 in cash and a Liberty bond stolen. The thief entered through a window in an upper apartment through a window in an upper room opening onto the piazza, when he was disturbed by the arrival of Mrs. Sherman's son.

Earlier in the evening a house on Wyman street was entered by the same means while the family was away, every room thoroughly ransacked, and a small amount of money and some jewelry taken.

The third break occurred early Saturday evening, when the home of La-Forrest Beal, 154 Eleventh street was broken into and a small amount of jewelry taken. In this case also the thief forced open a rear window, and searched the house from top to bottom during the temporary absence of the family.

Present contracts call for a yearly output of 100,000 pistols he said, and he believes that this will be vastly increased after the firm has "found itself." Sporting rifles will also be made here in the future, he said.

The pistol will be made in three different sizes, 25, 32, and 38 calibre. Although some skilled men and women will be required, Mr. Koehler said that the majority hired in will not necessarily have had previous experience in gun-making, although he, of course, would prefer former munition employees.

Limits Stay of Visitors

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Householders in the United Kingdom are barred from entertaining their mothers-in-law, or other guests, longer than four weeks by an order from the ministry of food. This edict which is part of the food conservation program, limits the stay of a visitor in a private house to one month.

Steel Workers Return—Many Clashes

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Numerous clashes between pickets and deserters from the strikers' ranks marked the opening of the eighth week of the steel strike here. Observers estimated 2000 additional workers returned to the steel plants today. Several fights ensued when pickets visited homes of mill workers who had announced their intention of returning to work today. One picket who is alleged to have attacked a mill worker at his home, was stabbed and may die. Operations were increased in all the mills.

Arrest Two More Alleged Radicals

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Federal officers took two more Russians, alleged radicals, into custody in East Youngstown today. Of the 31 arrested previously, only three have been released.

Pres. Wilson to See Prince of Wales

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—President Wilson will see the Prince of Wales if the royal visitor so desires, Rear Admiral Grayson said today. The prince will arrive here tomorrow and arrangements have been made for him to call on Mrs. Wilson at the White House at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. He probably will visit the president in his sick room at that time.

KEEN FRENCH MINDS IN LABOR MEET

WASHINGTON—Among the keenest and most progressive men at the International Labor conference are the French delegates, Joncha Pelous (left), and Arthur Fontaine (right).

NEWSPRINT PAPER SUPPLY IS SHORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The Chicago Tribune prints under the caption, "The Newspaper Shortage," an editorial dealing with the newsprint paper supply throughout the country. The editorial follows:

"The newsprint paper supply is rapidly approaching a stage which will be fatal to many newspapers. The present normal demand is perhaps 25 per cent. greater than the supply, and prices are on a famine basis and going higher. At present rates of advertising it is impossible for most newspapers to make money."

"If this situation was the result of manipulation for monopoly, it might be dealt with by the usual legal measures though prosecution and legislation are disappointing in results. In fact, the present situation is the result of short-sighted attempts in the past to restrict the price of paper, which has kept capital out of manufacture, so that the industry is now not able to meet the publishers' needs."

"The crisis can be met only by voluntary self-denial unless it be allowed to develop until the weaker publishers go under. The Tribune is in a fortunate situation because it manufactures its own paper, but it believes it would be a national misfortune if newspapers or other publications of merit were victimized by this abnormal conditions, perhaps even to the extent of being forced out of existence."

"The Tribune believes, therefore, that the stronger publications should forego their advantage to a reasonable extent, and enter into an agreement to curtail the consumption of newsprint paper. The agreement must be general and advertisers should give public spirited help by assenting to restrictions of space."

"The Tribune would be glad to lead the movement for restriction but has gone as far as it feels it is reasonable that it should go until a general agreement is put in force. It stands ready, however, to join in a general movement to bring consumption down, to the level of supply and thus save a situation which must soon prove disastrous to many publications and a public misfortune."

on the subject of shortbread, so popular with Scotch and English folk.

"But, good as was the old-fashioned kind," remarked our hostess, "it was so extremely rich that the heavy taste lingered long after eating."

"Well," said Betsy, "there's nothing like that about the shortbread we have at our house—Lorna Doone Biscuit. I squares them, come already baked and ready to serve, any time."

"I was talking to mother about them only the other day," says that Lorna Doone, "and she said all the appetizing, fashionable, good enough for good ones."

When appetites call for shortbread, serve delicious LORNA DOONE Biscuit. The enjoyment will last because these mealy, crumbly biscuit are not over-rich. You can eat on and on. The name LORNA DOONE is on every biscuit.

Sold by the pound and in the famous In-cer-seal Trade Mark package.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

When you make it will survive them, as if he stood in the oven door."

"Yes, that's the beauty of it," says Betsy, "but do you know? That National Biscuit Company products is because there is just enough richness to them, and no more. Appetizing and always fresh. Their ready-ness and freshness, however, are not the only features that recommend them. A still greater consideration is the fact that National Biscuit Company products obviate the necessity for mixing and baking at home. And any woman who has spent a day of her time in the kitchen will know even for a small family how much easier it is to have them ready-made."

REP. CORBETT TALKS ON NEW CHARTER

Representative Corbett, talking with a reporter today on the vote of last Tuesday where Plan B was rejected by the citizens, said that he interpreted the vote that the public really do want a change from the present form of government, and would have accepted Plan B had it not been for its several serious defects as applied to local government. The fact that Plan B was rejected by such a small majority is indication of this.

Mr. Corbett stated that his every effort next year will be to obtain favorable action upon his proposed charter by the legislature. To feel that he would not be doing his full duty to the citizens of Lowell, if he failed to make extraordinary efforts to have his charter presented to the people for consideration. He wants the co-operation of all citizens and organizations in the offering of suggestions or recommendations relative to his Charter, and will gladly accept same. In this connection he looks forward to receiving the support and active co-operation of public bodies such as the board of trade and the entire local delegation which includes two senators from Lowell, and with this support there is absolutely no question but that the people will have a chance to vote on the new charter next year. Mr. Corbett says, "I am going to put this charter before the people next year if possible and hope for the support of representative citizens of all parties. The most fatal defect in Plan B was the elimination of the primaries which feature is embodied in my proposed charter, together with many other perfecting clauses that fully protect and cover the city's needs. It will be my purpose to have the public conversant with every detail and feature of the proposed charter. I have on hand about three hundred copies of the charter, and would be glad to give a copy to any citizen who would notify me that he wants one."

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE ON THE WAR PATH

Candidates for the office of mayor and alderman got into their stride Saturday evening at downtown forums and gave several thousand voters reasons why they should be considered for positions that are to be made vacant next month by the expiration of the terms of Mayor Thompson and Commissioners Donnelly and Morse.

Former Mayor James E. O'Donnell addressed large audiences at city hall and Tower's corner as did John J. Gilbride, another mayoralty aspirant, who was defeated two years ago by a slender margin. Former Mayor George H. Brown, candidate for alderman, spoke at various downtown points. John J. Donovan, candidate for mayor, made an active canvass among the voters during the evening and John F. Salmon, candidate for alderman, addressed several gatherings in Centralville.

Mr. O'Donnell spoke this noon at the Saco-Loewell shops and Mr. Gilbride at the Lamson Co. plant in Walker street. A number of rallies are also scheduled for this evening by Messrs. O'Donnell, Gilbride and Salmon.

released after being questioned, may be rearrested.

Thirty-seven of the 1000 persons arrested Saturday night and early Sunday had membership cards of the communist party in their possession, the police said. Search is now being made for the complete membership rolls of the organization.

In addition to the nation-wide round-up of radicals directed by William J. Flynn, chief of the secret service of the department of justice, the senate legislative committee investigating radicalism, headed by Senator Clayton P. Lusk, is conducting a separate drive, mainly against the communists. Senator Lusk said that his reports showed a communist membership of over 7000 in this city alone.

More arrests of radical agitators were predicted by William J. Flynn, chief investigator for the department of justice. "We have a number of warrants for alleged agitators in New York and other parts of the country," he said, "and we expect to serve some of them today. We are not confining our work to the communist party but are covering all agitators."

The 37 "radicals" held after Saturday night's raids were questioned at police headquarters today by representatives of the department of justice, the Lusk committee and the department of immigration. A series of questions was prepared to be submitted to each prisoner. If the answers were unsatisfactory, officials stated, warrants for deportation would be asked.

300 Held in Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 10.—Virtually every Detroit police station, jail and other place of confinement today held federal prisoners, alleged radical agitators rounded up in raids begun last week. Approximately 300 persons have been arrested here. Smaller groups were taken at Jackson and Albion and further arrests are expected, the authorities intimated.

Of the 250 rounded up late Saturday night and Sunday morning, several hold Canadian passports, the police declare, and they probably will be summarily deported.

HAPSBURGS' ART OBJECTS, WORTH $21,000,000 SOON TO BE SOLD

VIENNA, Nov. 10.—(By the Associated Press.) The Hapsburgs' centuries-old accumulation of art objects, part of which is to be sold, is estimated to be worth $21,000,000. Paintings, rare manuscripts, Gobelins tapestries, and Oriental porcelain, goldsmiths' and silversmiths' work by the most famous Florentine jewelers and historical furniture are included. The furniture includes that of the room in Schoenbrunn Castle occupied by Napoleon in 1809.

The purpose of the sale, as announced, is to create a fund from which the poor may be fed for a time. All will not be sold, but enough so it will be the greatest sale in the history of artistic auctions. The peace conference ruled these were the property of Austria.

lie now costs 6,000,000,000 crowns, and Austria is almost entirely without credit. It is believed that the returns from the art auction will raise at least a portion of one year's supplies.

The Gobelins tapestries from the Schoenbrunn Castle of the late Emperor Franz Josef alone are valued at 2,000,000,000 crowns. Other articles to be sold include the treasures of the Hofbibliothek (court library chamber) including the magnificent services of pure gold and comprising many hundred pieces, the work of masters in gold work. They were used by Franz Josef only on very special state occasions.

The question, how the sale is to be arranged, in order to get as much money as possible, has not yet been decided. First there must be an understanding with the entente nations since important sales of state property cannot be made without their permission. The favorite plan however, if it is possible, is to place the articles at a public auction the most unusual in the world of art has ever seen. In that

Writer Says Germany Going to Gain More in East Than She Lost in West

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(By Associated Press) "Until you know what is going to happen in Russia, you will not know who has won the war," declared Aylmer Maude, writer on Russian affairs, in a recent address at King's college.

"It is quite possible," he proceeded, "that Germany is going to gain a very great deal more in the east than she has lost in the west."

BRITISH PROPAGANDA

The Americanization committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce has revealed a most alarming movement richly financed and conducted by able men, the aim of which is to rewrite American history in favor of England and by every means possible eradicate the unfriendly feeling with which a very large portion of the American people regard England at the present time.

The report referred to shows an actual invasion of the United States by a veritable horde of British propagandists who have evidently enlisted in their cause many American college professors, many publishers of text books, many newspapers, and many public school officials through whom they have access to teachers' conventions at which they descend upon how dearly all Americans should love Britain for what we have gained from Anglo-Saxon civilization.

After Lord Northcliffe's return to England, after his prolonged visit to the United States in 1917, it was reported to parliament that he had left $150,000,000 for propaganda work and 10,000 agents to organize and conduct it in a systematic manner throughout this country.

Already they have made progress in spreading sentiment favorable to England and unfavorable to America, charging even that our histories belie England wherever they accuse her of doing anything unfair towards the colonies.

Here is the program mapped out by Lord Northcliffe and published in his own paper, the London Times, on July 4, 1919:

"Efficient propaganda carried out by those trained in the arts of creating public good-will and of swaying public opinion towards a definite purpose. It is now needed, urgently needed. To make a beginning, efficiently organized propaganda should mobilize the press, the church, the stage and the cinema; press into active service the whole educational systems of both countries, and root the spirit of good will in the homes, the universities, public and high schools and primary schools. It should also provide for subsidizing the best men to write books and articles on special subjects, to be published in cheap editions or distributed free to classes interested. Authoritative opinion upon current controversial topics should be prepared both for the daily press and for magazines; histories and text-books upon literature should be revised. New books should be added, particularly in the primary schools. Hundreds of exchange university scholarships should be provided. Local societies should be formed in every center to foster British-American good-will in close co-operation with an administrative committee. Important articles should be broken up into mouthfuls for popular consumption, and booklets, cards, pamphlets, etc., distributed through organized channels to the public. Advertising space should be taken in the press, on the boardings and in the street cars for steadily presenting terse, easily-read and remembered mind-compelling phrases and easily grasped cartoons, that the public may subconsciously absorb the fundamentals of a complete mutual understanding."

One special aim of the propaganda has been to discredit each and every statement made by the friends of Ireland in support of their claim to the right of independence for the Irish people. This is done usually through magazine articles and communications to prominent newspapers citing alleged statements from Irish peasants in which the latter are falsely quoted as saying that "Ireland wants home rule for the Pope" and other such foolish and deliberate falsehoods. Such statements may be credited by some who think that there must be some foundation for the bitterness of Ulster toward the rest of Ireland, but it has no justification anywhere.

But strange to say, this propaganda work has undertaken to strike at the very foundation of our Americanism. It is for this reason that the Americanization committee of the Chamber of Commerce has come out in denunciation of the whole business as directly opposed to the nationwide campaign for a more staunch Americanism. One of the special activities of the British propagandists is to get permission to address teachers' conventions, not on educational questions but upon the alleged worldwide benefit of British influence and what we owe to Anglo-Saxon civilization.

On October 30, the British consul general presented a Normal school at Providence, R. I., a British flag "to be cherished by future students." It was on October 31, that no less than three of the British propagandists appeared before different branches of the Middlesex county convention in Boston not to speak upon educational topics but upon the subjects of Anglo-Saxon civilization "as illustrated in America," the alleged misrepresentation of England in her dealings with the colonies and the further alleged reasons why all Americans should dearly love England.

All this and a great deal more that was a direct insult to every American and an open attack upon our institutions, was in pursuance of the Northcliffe program; and it shows that the 10,000 agents engaged in the work have been quite successful in reaching the public school teachers. By whose authority were they brought before the convention? Who selected the speakers to address the body on subjects entirely foreign to the business of the convention? Who ever is responsible must have been fully aware of the business in which these men are engaged. Have these school officials also become agents of the British propaganda? They have at least placed themselves under suspicion.

It is almost incredible to what an extent these British propagandists have mobilized the agencies that control public opinion just as Northcliffe suggested. Already school histories are written evidently to meet the requirements of the British agents, one of whom told the Middlesex County Teachers' convention that we do not teach our school children the historic truth in regard to the revolution and the colonies. Prof. Bushnell Hart who spoke here during one of our drives out with a history which revises the history of the revolution in accordance with the ideas advanced by the British propagandists. The publishers as if indicating the purpose of the book announce that "it gives England a square deal."

Here is a paragraph from Hart's book:

"The colonists were as well off as any other people in the world. They were proud of being Britons, and liked to think of themselves as part of the British empire. In 1765 a stamp act was passed by parliament. . . . The British did not intend to send money away from America to support the home government; nevertheless the Colonists at once objected. As we look back, it is hard to see where the Colonists were robbed or oppressed."

Therefore, according to Hart, the revolution was a crime against England.

Owen Wister, a supposed American, proves himself to be the veriest British toady by pandering to British sentiment in a manner beneath the dignity of any red blooded American. Here is part of what he says on the subject of rewriting our text books:

"A movement to correct the school books has been started and will go on. It will be thwarted in every way possible. If ever we cease to be like you (England), if ever the streams of foreign blood that have poured into us, pollute the race current that flows through our veins from yours, we shall perish from the list of free nations."

After such un-American statements of the conditions prevailing at the outbreak of the revolution it may be refreshing to get the testimony of a certain George Washington who if we are to believe present day historians such as Prof. Hart, George Haven Putnam and others, must have lied deliberately when he said in a letter to Byron Fairfax at the opening of the revolution:

"I could wish that the dispute had been left to posterity to determine, but the crisis has arrived when we must assert our rights or submit to every imposition that can be heaped upon us. I am sure that we shall make us as time and object shall make us the objects of rule over."

In order to keep this propaganda out of our schools, it may be necessary to have a vigilance committee in every city to see that the works of pro-British writers are excluded and that the facts of history will not be distorted or concealed from the present or future generations of young Americans.

ONE YEAR OF PEACE

One year ago tomorrow the Germans signed the armistice terms Marshal Foch dictated, ending a war they already had lost on the battlefield of land and sea.

One year ago a new era of peace began. A world was to turn from making munitions to pursuits of peaceful industry, and millions of men were to change from uniforms of destruction to overalls of construction. Wonderful projects of readjustment were planned—and planning is about as far as they went.

One year has gone by and what plans of readjustment not piled on the junk heap are woefully in lack of repairs. We still are talking about the peace treaty. We haven't done anything with the railroads, nor with the merchant marine. The peace cost of living has undergone little change since the war, and we have done little but talk about it. Industrial unrest, and this includes both capital and labor, has been the subject of no end of controversy, while production lags and waste continues.

One year has not brought the returned soldier nearer the farm he wanted and which the government was going to make possible for him to own.

But with all these things not accomplished, urgent matters left undone, business unattended to, we—the nation and the people—are better off today than when the last shot was fired.

Our vast armies have been demobilized. The boys have come back home and gone back to their jobs. Their convention beginning tomorrow in Minneapolis shows they realize the need for team work—work together—for their own and their country's welfare. It has been this lack of team work, the peace-time failure of co-operation, which has slowed up production in the United States within the past 12 months, and which has stirred the feeling of unrest naturally following war.

We who may not have the honor of being members of the American Legion may take a tip from them. We can learn that co-operation in peace is as fruitful and as necessary as it was during the war. Labor and capital must learn this lesson. So must the producers and consumers.

Our first year of peace would have been entirely different, immensely more pleasing to all of us, if the war-time spirit of co-operation hadn't ebbed away with the signing of that armistice.

Let us bring it back into life, starting this, the beginning of our second year of peace!—N. E. A.

THE PRIMARY CAMPAIGN

The municipal campaign for the primaries is now on in earnest and the candidates are each laying down to the citizens what our city needs, what has been done wrong in the past and how things should be done in the future.

There is a sufficient number of worthy men running for each office from which to make a good selection if the voters will only use judgment so as to distinguish truth, facts and honesty from confidence pleas put up by others who are wholly unfit and unreliable. The voter who would put a man in public office because he tells a hard luck story or makes promises he cannot fulfill, should not be supported. No candidate whose record is known to be bad should receive any votes toward nomination or election.

We are not of the opinion that the electorate of Lowell is to blame for all the defects of our city government; but the men who supports unworthy candidates is untrue to himself and the municipality and gives color to that false charge. These are times when we should select only the best men who seek election. It is the duty of every citizen, therefore, to weigh well the merits of the candidates and vote only for the best. If all voters would follow this rule we would better city government, a better city and a more contented community.

SPECIAL SESSION

The special session of the legislature is to be called for the purpose of dealing with emergency matters including in particular, the street railway problems awaiting definite action. It is not likely, although quite possible, that the legislature will put up some legal bar to street railway strikes. If treated as conspiracies, they can be brought under the provisions of law dealing with such offenses. The labor leaders claim the right to strike in a body is guaranteed by law and cannot be abridged. Where the safety of the public would be menaced by such a strike, it can be made a criminal offense regardless of any claim to the contrary.

Let everybody help in the round-up of the Reds. Our constitution provides perfect freedom with equal rights for all; and those who want a different form of government should make them to some other country. They never can have it here.

SEEN AND HEARD

Well, anyway, we will have no need drop to be thankful for on next Thanksgiving day.

"It is not only right for a man to be rich," asserts the Rev. Cortland Myers of Boston, "but it is his duty to be rich." Recite, please.

When one reads a news item telling the story of a king who was riding on a handcar getting injured one wonders who the pullmans were built for.

John Kennedy of East Weymouth has grown a potato shaped like a shoe, a fact that has led some wise to suggest that other farmers mayhap, can raise their own shoes in their back gardens.

When a family possessed of an ordinary allotment of common sense gets into debt, says O. B. Jolly, it works a bit harder and spends a little less, but not so with a nation in debt. It works less and spends more.

Arthur Ardenault, 13, of Los Angeles, Cal., was convicted of stealing a dictionary, and now somebody suggests that this youthful thief for knowledge may bring some lad to the point of swiping a spelling book and 'ritimetic.

Run cherries used to head the list of a certain class of favorites in the good old days, but those of us who liked them will know them no more. Once upon a time a dear old grandmother sent her grandson, who was in college, a jar of rum cherries and he was credited with saying that he didn't care much for the cherries, but he did like the "spirit" in which they were sent.

A Variation

"How would you like to hear young children crying for bread?" asked the presiding elder who was endeavoring to raise a fund for the impecunious Armenians.

"I reckon it would be a pleasant change," replied Gap Johnson, of Rumpus Ridge, Ark. "They are always bawling for 'terbecker now."—Kansas City Star.

What is a "Nef"?

A silver gift "nef" was sold in a London art store at auction the other day for $15,000 and immediately London people began asking "what is a nef?" for it is a word little known.

A "nef" is a relic of bygone days; a decorative piece of plate for the dinner table. It was generally shaped like a ship, often having a row of oars, and other odds and ends deemed necessary in those days of sumptuous meals.

How to Start a Fire

Although a coal fire always burns better especially at the start, when lighted from the bottom, it has been found to be much more economical if the paper and kindling wood are pinned above the coal. A few small coals and cinders are spread over the top of the kindling wood to enable the coal fire to be started. After the top layer begins to burn properly, the fire will spread slowly downward, if the air draft is right. This method secures the most comfortable combustion because the gases from the unburned coal at the bottom must pass through the burning layer at the top, and thus become completely burned.

It is admittedly harder to build and control this kind of a fire, but the saving in fuel often justifies the extra trouble.—Popular Mechanics.

A Persian Rob Roy

The Persian government, which has recently been showing unusual activity in repressing disorder, has hanged the famous robber chief, Nayib Hussein, who is so old as to have become almost legendary in his own life-time, and his son Mashallah Khan, who have long terrorized the neighborhood of Kashan, says a Teheran dispatch to the London Times.

Nayib Hussein lived in a huge fortified castle on his "estate" near Kashan, where, supported by his sons, he levied blackmail in the bazaars of the town. Often he occupied the town itself, and so powerful did he become that in 1912 the government invited him to assume responsibility for the safety of the roads from Kashan to Kumm and Yezd, where no caravan was safe from his depredations. His name was a household word in Persian homes, and was used as a bogey to frighten children. On six different occasions his violent end was announced in the official Gazette of Teheran, but the old brigand always turned up again.

His activities often were the start of serious complications, and on one occasion he caused the resignation of the foreign minister after a street fight with Cossacks in Kashan.

Fat Men in History

Fat and fame have not very often been combined, perhaps because stout men are generally inclined to be easy going, and therefore lacking in the push which brings a man to the fore. The only great statesman one can recall who was really a fat man was Charles James Fox, as can be seen even by his effigy in the Palace of Westminster, where he would make three of his great rival, Pitt the younger.

The only fat poet one can recall is Jamie Thompson, the author of "The

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

RED PILLS were my mother's favorite remedy, and she did not cease recommending them to me. I gave them a trial and they relieved me of general weakness, poor circulation, inward trouble and other minor ailments. I had started to work when very young, and although I was favored with a strong constitution, the strain was too much and I was unable to keep up my work. Now that I know how easy it is for me to keep strong and well by the use of RED PILLS, I am firmly resolved that I will continue taking them regularly, and not let myself become a victim of that terrible malady, which is Anæmia.

THE BITUMINOUS COAL SITUATION

The machinery set up by the railroad administration to distribute coal now in transit by the railroads in accordance with the direction of the fuel administrator is in full operation and as a result wherever possible coal is being distributed in accordance with the priority list established by the fuel administrator where such coal is absolutely needed.

Therefore, where there is a real need for coal the subject should be taken up immediately with the railroad ordinarily supplying the coal and every effort will be made by such railroad to meet the demand.

It is, of course, essential both because of the present bituminous coal strike and in order that the needs for the coming winter may be looked after that fuel be used as economically as possible. It should be remembered that the railroads did not interfere with the delivery of coal to designated consignees until the day before the present strike began. In order to conserve coal as much as possible regional directors of railroads have been given authority wherever it seems absolutely necessary, to eliminate for the time being train service but in order to provide for the essential business needs of the country no general curtailment of train service is contemplated. The maintenance of the public transportation service is of paramount importance in order to serve the countless needs of the general public and the interruption of that service will be minimized as far as possible.

"It's the Bean"

The Famous La Touraine Bag

Selected, Blended, Roasted according to the La Touraine Formula

Selection

Variation is a law of nature.

Here are two Baldwin apple trees in the same orchard. The fruit of one tastes and is different from that of the other, although they are both Baldwins.

The same is true of coffee. There are not only many kinds of coffee, but there are many types of many kinds.

Thousands of our customers wonder why La Touraine Coffee never varies in goodness; why the quality has always the same rich, full flavor, the same coffee satisfaction hidden in every cup of it.

It is because La Touraine Coffee is selected coffee. It is made from selected beans of particular types of coffee grown on certain plantations noted for the quality of the coffee beans they grow.

This requires a coffee skill, so intuitive in operation that years of experience and a vast knowledge of coffee lore are the necessary qualifications for the selection of the correct beans that will meet the standard required by the La Touraine formula.

To have coffee goodness upon your table, ask your grocer specifically for La Touraine, the Perfect Coffee — then you are assured of coffee satisfaction.

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster — does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone! Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frostbite, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia), etc. and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

MISSOURI WOMAN SEEKING RELATIVES

Out in far away Missouri lives Margaret Hershey. She lives in the town of Marceline, to be exact. She has many relatives in Lowell whom she has not seen or heard from in 25 long years. She has written to Postmaster Sheehan asking him to send her the present address of her kinsfolk. If possible. The postmaster finds himself unable to comply with her request, but hopes that if any of her relatives are in the city they will give him the desired information, or write personally to Mrs. Hershey. The letter follows:

Marceline, Missouri, Nov. 1919.
Mr. John F. Meahan, Postmaster, Lowell, Mass.
My Dear Sir:
I am writing you a few lines to ask you if you will do me a favor. I have uncles, aunts and cousins who live in Lowell and a half-brother by the name of Pat Murphy and he had four sons; Thomas and William McCarthy, and an aunt by the name of Anne McFarlin. All had large families. I have not heard from them for 25 years and would be very thankful to you for any information you could give me.
My mother's name was Bridget McCarthy and she married Pat Murphy. When he died she married Peter Rodgers and moved to the state of Missouri.
Yours truly,
MARGARET HERSHEY.

FORMER MIDDLEWEIGHT BOXING HEAVIES

BY FRED TURBYVILLE

N.E.A. Sports Writer

Jimmy Clabby, a star among middleweights here several years ago, is taking them all on in Australia, according to the latest letter from Snowy Baker, the famous promoter of the Antipodes. Jimmy is still a regular middleweight but game was scarce for Jimmy in that class and he's taking them all on as Jack Dillon did in this country a few years ago. Jimmy defeated George Cook, a heavyweight in a 20-round bout at Sydney. Cook was badly whipped by the clever Clabby. The American will next tackle Albert Lloyd, Australian heavyweight champion.

Another opponent for Lloyd will be Chuck Wiggins, one of the Tom Anglin's stable now in Australia. Wiggins is a light heavyweight. He is from Indianapolis. Andrews has with him Eddie Kelly, lightweight; Joe Mooney, feather; Frankie Bailey, bantam; Barney Snyder, flyweight; and Cliff Thomas, lightweight. They're setting plenty of fights.

Both Kelly and Mooney will box Lew Edwards, Australian lightweight champ who can also box in the featherweight class. Vince Blackburn will box Dalley.

Baker writes that he has discovered a new "Darcy." The lad is a young heavyweight named Jim Hanley. Snowy says he is of the Dempsey type but is faster and has a more varied attack. He is still in his teens. The boxing game is going good in Australia. There will be many good bouts fought this winter. Baker expects some of the Australian champs to come through blue and perhaps demand matches with the American champions.

Baker just now is trying to interest the boxing promoters of other countries in establishing international boxing control to regulate every angle of the sport.

The boxing world certainly has need for some sort of central control and if Snowy Baker was in America perhaps he could not the thing through. He is a high class sportsman in every sense of the word and a credit to the boxing game.

NAMES ON BALLOT AT THE CITY PRIMARIES

When the time for filling nomination papers for municipal office expired at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon it was found that a total of 27 candidates had lived up to the requirements in the matter of getting signatures and these 27 names will be on the ballot at the city primaries, one week from tomorrow, Tuesday, Nov. 18.

Nine of these candidates saw service in the world war, one of them as a Knights of Columbus secretary, one in the navy and the others in the army.

The list includes five candidates for mayor, ten for alderman and 12 for school committee. At the city primaries each voter will be legally entitled to vote for one candidate for mayor, two for alderman and two for school committee. Two candidates for mayor will be nominated, four for alderman and four for school committee, but voters are allowed to vote only for the number who are to be finally elected. Voting for more than this number invalidates a ballot.

The present office-holders whose terms expire this year are Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Commissioners James E. Donnelly and Charles J. Morse and school committeemen Richard Brabook Walsh and Dr. William R. Thompson. The latter two are not candidates for re-election.

Among the candidates, which have not already been dealt with in detail are the following:

Daniel Cosgrove, 423 Gorbam street, candidate for alderman, a provision dealer, member of the board of aldermen under the old form of government and a candidate for lieutenant governor on the bull moose ticket several years ago.

Cornelius Desmond, Jr., 195 Stockpole street, is a veteran of the world war who has never sought office before. He was at first confused with Cornelius Desmond, Sr. He is a candidate for alderman.

William H. Allen of 47 South Walker street is a candidate for the school committee. He has never aspired to public office before.

Thomas B. Delaney of 92 West street, a candidate for school committee, is an installer for the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. and has never aspired for public office.

Dr. James H. Rooney, 238 Pine street, another school committee candidate, served in the navy during the war and as a dentist by profession. He previously served as a member of the board of registrars.

George F. Wessen of 15 Liberty street is a leather glazier who also aspires to the school committee. He never sought public office before.

Poincare on Mission to England

PARIS, Nov. 10.—Considerable importance is attached by the press to the visit of President Poincare to England. According to Marcel Huting, writing in the Echo de Paris, the president and foreign Minister Pichon who accompanies him will discuss with Premier Lloyd George and Earl Curzon, British foreign secretary, questions relating to putting the peace treaty into effect, taking into account new dispositions by the United States. The Russian problem, according to the writer, especially in view of the recent utterances of Premier Lloyd George, will also be the subject of discussion.

TUFTS FRESHMEN EASY

Textile School Eleven Runs

Wild and Scores Easy Victory, 27 to 0

The Lowell Textile school steam-rolling football eleven smothered Tufts Freshmen all over the Moody street campus Saturday afternoon and walked away at the long end of a 27 to 0 score. Another touchdown was banged across by the local team, but was disallowed when Tufts protested that the ball was fumbled before the halfback fell over the line and that the ball was not dead back of the goal posts as the referee first ruled.

At no time was the Lowell goal line threatened and although substitutes streamed onto the field from the Textile bench the offense did not seem to lose any of its punch and power. Textile started scoring in the first period, once in the second quarter and twice in the third. The touchdown which was ruled out came in the fourth period well along toward the close of the game.

Textile received the kickoff at the start of the game and never surrendered the ball until points had been chalked up. Marble drove most of his plays off the tackle but found the left side of the Tufts line weak and sent his backs spinning through the holes for long gains. The touchdown came on a well thrown forward pass which Goulette picked out of the air on the goal line. Capt. Precourt kicked the goal.

Textile's kickoff was short and Tufts ran the ball back to midfield. On the third play Tufts fumbled and Textile recovered. Failing to gain Textile punted and Tufts returned in kind. From a polar in midfield Marble again put his plays running well and drove down to the three-yard mark when the period halted the march.

Second Period

On the first play Marker plunged through for the second touchdown and Precourt again kicked the goal. Several exchanges of punts followed the next kickoff and the half ended with the ball in Textile's possession on their own 30 yard line.

Third Period

Textile kicked off, but soon got the ball on downs when the Tufts' attack whittled. Lowell lost the ball on the first play when a fumble was picked up by a Tufts lineman. Tufts immediately punted. Marble made a fine recovery of one of his own fumbles and the ball then went back to Tufts when a forward pass was intercepted. Again the ball changed hands when Stevens left his feet and pulled down a Tufts forward pass on the 20 yard line. The march from there to the goal line was short and sweet, Lombard splitting the left side of the opposing line for the touchdown. Wentworth kicked the goal.

Textile again chose to kickoff and it was a wise decision, for another Tufts fumble was recovered on the 20 yard line and a series of line plays wound up with Lombard again shooting around for the fourth score. The goal was missed.

Fourth Period

The disputed touchdown came in the fourth period. Fountaine whistled around left and was thrown on the goal line. The ball bounced from his arm and was picked up by a Tufts player who was dragged to earth after a short run. The referee first ruled that it was a touchdown, saying that Fountaine had fallen across the line and that the ball was dead before it broke away from him, but Tufts disputed and Textile declined to argue the point and allowed the official to change his decision. Wentworth tried a drop kick soon after, but it went wide and the game ended when Tufts put the ball in scrimmage on the 20 yard line.

Final score: Textile 27, Tufts Freshmen 0.

NOTES OF THE GAME

A good sized crowd was present and at times the Textile students showed a playes staged baseball and football games and informal sports. The sales room and supply station waged keen competition, the latter crowd winning the baseball game, 6 to 5. The girls took part in the contest and showed particular skill in "Kissin' the old apple." The sales people also won the relay race, although the supply room had it all sewed up before Jim Boland fell on the last lap.

It was a day among days, the reddest on the whole calendar and will remain a pleasant memory for months to come.

SOMETHING ON HIP?

Must Pay for Privilege of Drinking it in Hotels

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—New York hotels have invented a new charge—

most respectable cheering section.

Marble handled the Textile team well, kept his men working all of the time and showed good judgment in his selection of plays. He was taken out for a while in the second period after receiving a nasty fall.

The game was notable for the lack of offside play and penalties, there being only two such inflected by the officials.

It is said that practically all of the first team will be back in school next year and if that is so, Textile should go out for bigger game. As the team stands today it is of college timber and deserves recognition as such.

Capt. Precourt at end is a strong wingman and gets down the field well on kicks.

The punting on both sides was disappointing, many of the boots carrying scarcely 30 yards.

Shukli, who replaced A. Goostree in the Textile line in the fourth quarter, broke through fast on his first play and battered down a Tufts punt. Fountaine fell on the ball as it bounded along near the 10-yard line.

Marker is a hard-hitting back, as is Lombard, who came from a tackle position to the backfield during the second half. Both men keep their feet well after striking the line and usually plough along for several yards after being tackled.

Anybody who has an idea that a Lowell Textile-Lowell High game would be a good contest for a windup of the season is way out in left field. Such a game would be very liable to wind up high school's football for all time.

"corkage, one dollar." It means that hereafter men who enter a restaurant armed with a flask and women who secrets in their vanity uses a tiny tube loaded with a pre-prohibition cocktail, must pay for the privilege of providing their own drinks. One hotel man explained last night that there is about as much drinking as ever in public dining halls, hence the corkage tax.

LOOKING FOR DOG KILLER

Lowell Humane society officers are searching for the autoist who, after striking and severely injuring a dog near Golden Cove, carried to St. Joseph's cemetery in his machine and left it there to die. The officers believe they have a clue to the man's identity and will prosecute the case to the limit if he can be found.

VICTORY BOXING CARD FRED CHURCH HERO
HERE TOMORROW NIGHT ROLE FOR HARVARD

Tomorrow night the Crescent A.A. will stage a "victory boxing card," and judging from the comment heard around town a gala crowd will attend.

Chick Simler, of Brooklyn, who fought a sensational 12 round bout with Barney Adair at Johnny Cuddy's arena in Lawrence recently will meet Eddie May of Allentown, Pa., in the main event. Simler is a very satisfactory worker, and works every second that he is in the ring. While out-weighted by Adair, he kept right after his opponent and when it came to swapping punches, he stood right in there and never backed away. Many Lowell fans saw that bout and they were very favorably impressed with Simler's handling. May, while never seen here before, has performed at various New England clubs, and has always performed satisfactorily. He is some time, and once came here for some time, but the man he was scheduled to meet failed to show up and the bout was called off. He is in great condition and confident of victory, his manager writes. In the semi-final Young Drew and Mark Murphy, two classy performers, are hooked. Both of these boys are well known to Lowell fans. Drew has appeared here on several occasions, while Murphy has performed at Lawrence, Boston and other places in this vicinity. There is considerable rivalry between the pair and a lively number is expected. There will be two six round preliminaries.

Fred Church, of Lowell, stepped squarely into Harvard's hall of football fame Saturday afternoon when he booted over the goal from a touchdown which saved the Crimson from an eye-lash defeat at the hands of Princeton. It was no position for a man of weak nerves or questionable skill and all of Harvard's football hopes except those centered on the Yale game, hung on the broad toe of Fred's right shoe.

When the Lowell Church went back to make his try for goal his team was trailing the Tiger, 10 to 5 and on his ability to come through in this great test of pinches hinged the result of a bitterly fought game. Quoting from Burt Whitman, regarding the play:

"Fred Church measured the angle carefully, sighted lawlessly and then cut loose his placement kick. He gave the ball shooting up and between the uprights and tying a game which surely means more to all Harvard men than many and many a victory. For today the untired, untested, unreliable crimson team, playing unknown quantities, found itself went down through the valley of desolation, but kept its eyes toward the light and eventually came through with a victory."

That uperring kick was not the only thing young Church did in Palmer stadium in one of the grandest football contests ever staged, for his very presence in the Harvard backfield gave Princeton another fast man to watch and another draw the attention of the Tiger from Natick. Eddie Casey and made it possible for this second Mahan to fight his way over to the touchdown which ultimately meant a tie game.

POLO GAME HERE

TUESDAY AFTERNOON

LOWELL WINS FROM SALEM

The American Roller Polo league will observe Armistice day tomorrow with double headers in several of the cities. The fast traveling Lawrence team, which has been going like a house, will play at Lowell in the afternoon. When Dufresne donned a Lawrence uniform, the team was in a rut, and had unquipped possession of the ball. But the "duke" injected the necessary "pep" and fired a big gap, and the club went out and won six straight. Lowell plays at Lawrence tonight, and when the teams clash here tomorrow a hotly contested battle is expected. The last time Lawrence played here, the locals were defeated. But that was before Dufresne and O'Brien became members of the respective teams. A large delegation of Lawrence fans is planning to accompany the team to Lowell, and with both clubs strengthened and looking upon as a pretty evenly matched pair the old rivalry is bound to return. The other afternoon games tomorrow are New Bedford at Fall River, and Salem at Worcester. The evening games are Providence at Lawrence, Worcester at Salem and Fall River at New Bedford.

SCHOOLS REOPEN

FOOTBALL SERIES

Lawrence and Haverhill high schools re-opened football seasons at O'Sullivan park on Saturday after a lapse of seven weeks. Lawrence came to a 21 to 6 beating and the result furnished food for thought for Lowell inasmuch as both teams appear on Canoe Conway's schedule within the next two weeks. Lawrence comes to Spalding park, while Haverhill is met away from home. As Lowell tied Woburn, 7 to 7, and Lawrence beat out Woburn, 7 to 6, that game looks like a toss-up, but the Haverhill contest is in a state of uncertainty.

The local eleven plays the hard-working Vocational school team at Spalding park tomorrow forenoon. Armistice day, and the high school boys are not under-riding their opponents, who possess a lot of spirit and fight. The game is called for 10 o'clock.

LAWRENCE, Nov. 10.—Lawrence defeated Salem, 5 to 1, in a hotly contested game here Saturday night. The locals got three touchdowns in the first period, with Salem blanked. In the second round, Salem scored one—the only point of the period. Lawrence hammered through a brace as the third number opened, after which the Wirens got the ball rolling to desire for a sequence of three bulleseyes. Just when a tie score threatened, the ending gong sounded. Duggan and Dufresne were the Lawrence action boys, and Williams and Hardy excelled for Salem. The lineup, score and summary:

WORCESTER 4, NEW BEDFORD 3. WORCESTER, Nov. 10.—A rush to the spot and a crash at the pellet decided the Worcester-New Bedford game in Worcester's favor, 4 to 3, here Saturday night. Under the rules, a foul is made when a rusher hits the ball without the sounding whistle from the referee. The score was 4 to 1, and New Bedford had made two touchdowns in this game, when Hart races for the spot. Taylor of the Worcester team, was unprepared, so Referee Carroll did not sound the starting whistle, and instead of passing by the round object, which under the rules he was required to do, Hart slammed it full force.

PROVIDENCE 2, FALL RIVER 4. PROVIDENCE, Nov. 10.—Hundreds of fans were turned away Saturday night from the Providence-Fall River game at the armory. The place was packed to the rafters. Providence won 5 to 4. The Gold Bugs got away in fine fashion, and after securing the lead, they kept it, with the visitors vainly trying to hold them back. Red Williams and Legs Thompson were the stars for Providence. Their attack was as brilliant as fans have seen in this city, and although Fred Jean waded every artifice in his store, they were not to be denied. Williams made the season's record for rushing, at 15. Fall River lost a goal on fouls. Cusick making four in a row.

Fall River won two games and lost one in the week's play, while New Bedford won three and lost two. Providence, Worcester and Salem were on the long end of one out of four games.

One of the big features of the hot race is the remarkable improvement in the playing of young Davies of Lowell. He is developing fast under the capable direction of Harkins and Griffith, two of the best combination players in the business. Another factor in Lowell's success is the presence of O'Brien in the lineup. He is a big, strong, experienced man, and has filled a hole in the Lowell defense. While a little over weight, he fitted right in with the Lowell combination, and is bound to prove a tower of strength as the season progresses.

Duggan and Dufresne are proving a great combination down in Lawrence, and to them is due the great spur made during the past few weeks. Lawrence fans are now claiming the pennant.

ABBOT SOCCER STARS

PICK OFF THISTLES

The Abbot Worsteds Co. soccer team went to Lawrence Saturday afternoon and defeated the Thistles, 3 to 2, at Glen Essex grounds. The game played a whole of a game for Abbot and scored twice. The lineup and summary:

FOOTBALL GAME

The Indians will play the strong Hyde park A. A. on the old fair grounds tomorrow morning. The game will start at 10:30 o'clock. Both teams will present their strongest lineups and a red hot contest is expected. The Indians are enjoying a great season and the team is now one of the strongest independent eleven in the state. The acquisition of "Chet" Young was a ten strike. He's a powerful fellow, and knows the game thoroughly. Young Loucraft, who recently returned from overseas, is playing well at quarterback. McIntyre and Donnellan, who have starred for the team for several years are in old time form. Gleason at full back is playing wonderful football and his plunges through the opposing lines have brought many gains. He carried the ball well, Coughlin and all the other members of the outfit are showing high class work.

INDIANS CRUSH NEPONSET TEAM

Under perfect weather conditions and before a large sized crowd the Indians took the measure of the Neponset Wanderers on the old fair grounds yesterday afternoon by the score of 13 to 0. Lawrence caused the game to be limited to three periods, but during the minutes of play the Indians rolled over two touchdowns and scored one goal from touch-down.

The Indian ends, Cahill and Donnellan played a slashing game, while Gleason and McIntyre knifed through the Neponset line time after time for long gains. Lineup and summary:

Indians—Cahill, le; Boland, lt; Moore, lg; Riley, c; Young, re; Locke, rt; Donnellan, re; Loucraft, qb; McIntyre, lb; Turner, rlb; Gleason, flb.

Arrangements for a tag day and dance for the benefit of the welcome home celebration fund of the O.M.I. Cadets were perfected at a meeting of the general reception committee held yesterday afternoon. Everything points to one of the most successful of the various affairs of this nature already held in Lowell.

HOPE TO WIN BY BALLOTS

Bullets Not Necessary, Says Labor Party Leader—Convention Planned

BY E. C. RODGERS
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 8.—The first convention of the new national labor party, meeting in Chicago, Nov. 22, will place itself on record as opposing the Russian method of readjustment. Bullets, riots, bloodshed, all forms of violence will be frowned upon.

"We'll win by the ballot," declared Max Hayes, temporary president of the national convention. "It'll be ballots, not bullets, for us. Labor will not countenance disorder, rioting, nor attempts to overturn the American government, the American constitution, nor American democracy."

The convention will come out nationalized for—

Restoration of civil liberties.
Public ownership and management of the means of transportation and communication, mines, finance and all other monopolies and natural resources, and Abolition of excessive land ownership and holding land out of use for speculative purposes.

These will be the main and strongest planks of the new party's platform, Hayes said, when I saw him at his office here.

"The old parties don't mean anything," Hayes said. "They have been used too long for office-holding and to secure special privileges for the few.
Their platforms and promises are intended only to throw a cloud of smoke before the voters' eyes."

"The time is ripe for a national labor party. We have received encouraging word from labor organizations all over the country. They want a party of their own. They are not the citizens who would countenance any violence, who would not think of overthrowing a government when they can get all they ask for by use of the ballot guaranteed them in the constitution."

"People who have the ballot don't need the bullet. Labor is the most peaceful thing in the world."

"Who will be at the convention?" I asked.

"We expect thousands of delegates.
Every state, city, county and local labor organization is entitled to representation. Women's organizations affiliated with labor may come. Bona fide co-operative bodies may send delegates. Any group of citizens, men or women, forming a local labor party club, may send a delegate for every 500 members. The permanent national party organization will be formed at Chicago."

Hayes was not sure if the November convention would pick the party's presidential candidates. He intimated that several names had been suggested.

"California labor groups have suggested the name of Senator Hiram Johnson," Hayes said.

Other possibilities are said to be Samuel Gompers, Frank Walsh, Glenn Plumb and Lynn Frazier, farmers' governor of North Dakota.

At present there is no intention of effecting a combination with the farmers' Nonpartisan league, although Hayes explained that the labor party would have a working agreement with the league in states where the farmers are organized and intimated that in time the two may get together in one large party. He said this was favored by President A. C. Townley of the National Nonpartisan league.

"There is a strong sentiment among labor people," Hayes said, "to postpone the presidential nominations until a later convention, possibly next spring or summer. They think it premature to name the candidates this fall. However, the convention delegates may go ahead and select the standard bearers."

Hayes believes it would be best to give the November convention over to organizing work, laying down the party platform and laying a plan for labor clubs in every ward and township in the country.

Hayes would not predict what the convention might do in the way of endorsing strikes of coal and steel workers, although he insisted that labor delegates would always side with "labor men forced to seek their rights" by the strike. He said strikes being the result of conditions it would be the convention's foremost duty to attack conditions which, in his estimation, breed strikes and labor unrest.

One thing is sure, and that is the temporary officers and executive committee of the labor party will take a firm stand against any and all un-American methods of changing labor conditions.

"If—and when—railroads, coal mines, steel mills, are taken over by the government and operated for and by the people, it will not be done until a majority of all the people want it done, and the ballot will be our only weapon," Hayes said.

Max Hayes is an editor—labor paper —by trade; a labor organizer by inclination, and an ex-socialist because—"I belong to the labor party," he explained. "One of our first rules is that members of the labor party must cut loose from the old parties, democratic, republican, socialist."

Who may join the labor party?
Hayes replied: "Any American citizen, who labors with hands or brains."

Questions and Answers

Q. What causes one's feet to get extra cold?

A. Those who suffer from cold feet are usually found, on examination, to have very poor circulation in the legs.
In many instances the circulation is interfered with by varicose veins. In other instances the blood vessels of the legs seem to be smaller than usual or do not respond so readily to the varying demands made upon them.

Q. Is fish a good substitute for meat?

A. Assuredly yes. Fish supplies practically the same food elements but in a smaller proportion than does meat.
Most ordinary fish should cost not more than one-third the price of good fresh beef in order to be an economical substitute for the latter article.

BIG PATRIOTIC SERVICE

First Anniversary of Signing of Armistice Observed at Congregational Church

A service in celebration of the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice, combined with a welcome-home program for the army and navy men of the parish was held at the First Congregational church last evening and the large assembly heard splendid addresses by Mayor Perry D. Thompson and Rev. Chauncey H. Hawkins, D.D., pastor. An augmented choir furnished spirited music for the occasion and Mrs. P. L. Roberts, as soloist, sang several rousing patriotic tunes. The congregation also joined in the singing of many of the songs made popular during the days of war.

Mayor Thompson assured the services men of the church that Lowell is proud of their splendid achievements and never will forget their sacrifices in the cause of human liberty. "It is quite appropriate," he said, "that a church should celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the armistice, for we all agree that the cause was just and was guided and directed by an unseen hand."

Dr. Hawkins said in part: "I am going to speak tonight not in flattering language to our young men in the service, because I have learned by experience that they do not like to be flattered. They like to get off their uniforms as soon as possible, and to have as little said about it as possible."

"Because the world is small and because the world is one, the law of the parable of the Good Samaritan is no longer law for the individual, but a law that must govern the relations of the nations upon the earth. We learned that tremendous fact through the struggle. Are we going to forget it? Did our boys rush to France simply because there was a dramatic incident that centered attention on that one thing, or are we going to recognize the law of mutual service for all time? "Yonder stands Armenia, crying out to America to come over there and assume a protectorate. Are we as Americans going to sit back in our complacency and let Armenia be put to the dagger of the Turk until there are no Armenians alive? I very much fear that with the attitude of congress, and especially the senate, today, unless the voice of America makes itself felt with tremendous power, we shall not assume the responsibility."

"We have learned also that we cannot leave any nation of the earth today not Christian, and have the world safe. Let Germany have conscription, and France has got to have it. Let Germany wallow in ideas of materialism, and she will drag the other nations down. The whole world today has got to go upward, or the whole world has got to perish. It is one vision before us today, the whole world one for the Christian ideal, or the whole world suffering."

"There is only one way, and we are going to learn it by the time we have a few more red revolutions. That way is Christianity. Science cannot do it, because science has no conscience. Science is neutral in the world of morals."

It costs the farmers of the United States $1,000,000 a year for the gradual washing away of their lands.

TOLEDO STREET CARS

SPIRITED AWAY

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Ten to 50 cents was the rate of fare Toledo citizens paid today to get to their places of employment. The second day of no street cars found city officials determined to fight to a finish the avowed effort of the Toledo Railways & Light Co. to effect repeal of the ouster ordinance passed by a vote of the people at the election last Tuesday.

City officials reiterated their stand of yesterday that the ordinance would not be repealed, nor the company given a franchise, because Henry L. Doeherty of New York, head of the concern which controls the local traction company, spirited the cars into Michigan before daylight on Sunday morning without notice to the public.

A resolution will be introduced in the common council tonight looking to the repeal of the ouster ordinance. It is understood that the councilmen will vote against repeal. It is pointed out that should it be repealed it would have to be submitted to the voters and law authorities have not yet found a way in which a special election could be held under the terms of the city charter.

Frank H. Coates, president of the traction company, declared today that the cars will be returned and service resumed only when the ouster ordinance is repealed and the company is given a franchise.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the dress agents of the downtown district say of the current attractions and of others to come:

THE STRAND

Two film features of extraordinary merit are scheduled for presentation on The Strand screen for the first three days of the week, commencing with tonight. Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese star, will be seen in "The Dragon Painter," a novel and highly artistic production in which this unusual actor is seen in new fields of screen endeavor. The piece is most artistically handled and the story it carries is of the unusual sort. You will surely like the play and the player. Viola Dana, the captivating screen comedienne, comes to "The Strand" in another of those amusing comedy dramas that has all of the elements that go in the making of this brand of high-class entertainment. Miss Dana is seen in an entirely new role and she handles it in a manner that will commend itself to all. Besides the above there will be one of those rapid succession of films, Universal Weekly, containing all of the most interesting and instructive views on current events of the week. There will be other features, but the above are the chief ones that contribute to a program of real merit. For the last three days Dustin Farnum in "A Man in the Open" and Gladys Brockwell in "Chasing Rainbows."

OPERA HOUSE

Messrs. Buckley & Schaeke, through their resident manager, Charles E. Cook, take extreme pleasure in announcing for the present week's production by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, the new play written by their leading man, John Meehan, entitled "A Man's Job." The play is a romantic drama of war and peace and has for its principal characters an American girl, a soldier, and a fortune teller. The recent world war events, with particular reference to the part taken by the United States in it, form the background on which the actor-author has written what is said to be a most interesting and entertaining play. The fact that it has already been taken over by William Harris, Jr., and will be produced on Broadway next spring, speaks volumes of its worth as a stage offering. Mr. Meehan has written several successful plays, including "The Very Minute," which was bought outright by David Belasco, and is due for production in New York next year.

"A Man's Job" has its scenes laid in America and the action, which is swift and of the sure-fire variety, is also carried on in this country. An American girl, with real blood running through her veins, who has tired of the dollar-worshipping society she has always known, and a young American soldier of fortune are the principal figures about which the play moves. There are other excellent characterizations that contribute to a decidedly well-balanced and exciting cast. There is a strong love story attached to it and a pleasant blending of all elements that go in the making of a genuinely good production. Miss Phelps, the talented leading woman, will appear in the stellar female role, and Mr. Meehan will be seen as the adventurous Bob Stinson. J. Francis Kirk, the director, promises a production of the equal of any ever attempted in this or any other city of the east.

A big advance sale is already recorded. Be wise and order your tickets well in advance. Tel. 251. Remember tomorrow is a holiday.

THE OWL THEATRE

While "The Right to Happiness," now being played at the Owl theatre, contains the accustomed love themes of the affection between man and his mate, there is another element of love vastly superior in volume—the love of a girl for a humanity that she does not know how to benefit. She sees Utopia gained through the sword and the torch, feeling that the result justifies the means.

Some remarkable spectacular effects have been obtained in the film. One of these is a vivid picture of a Cossack pogrom in old St. Petersburg nineteen years ago, against the Jewish population. Another is an attack on the palatial home of an American millionaire by a mob of half-crazed radical workmen, led by the millionaire's own daughter.

Two of the love themes of the story are exquisitely sweet, one is amusingly rapid and the other would be repulsive were it not so delicately handled. Dorothy Phillips, the star, in the depiction of a dual role, is deserving of unstinted praise for her success. She portrays the part of a Russian-reared girl who becomes a radical leader, swaying the masses by the fire of her incendiary eloquence, and she is seen as Vivian, daughter of an American millionaire, who sees life only in terms of self-gratification.

In her support are William Stowell and Robert Anderson, both of whom had important male parts in "The Heart of Humanity."

FR. MCNEIL GOES TO BRIDGEWATER

Rev. Francis McNeil, for the past two and a half years a curate at St. Columba's church, this city, has been transferred to St. Thomas Aquinas church, Bridgewater, and will leave tomorrow to take up his new duties. He made his farewell to members of the parish at the late mass yesterday.

Rev. Fr. McNeil has been one of the most popular young priests to come to Lowell and his departure will be felt keenly by the members of St. Columba's parish, especially among the younger members. His duties as head of the parish Sunday school and various other parish activities in which the younger people have been interested brought him in close touch with them. Hardly less regret is expressed by the older members of the parish who have come to look upon Fr. McNeil as a most capable assistant to their pastor, Rev. Patrick J. Hally.

Rev. Fr. McNeil was ordained about 12 years ago and came to Lowell from St. Vincent's church, South Boston. His home is in Somerville. His successor at St. Columba's has not yet been announced.

"Never Has to Call a Doctor—Bathes Internally"

Mr. J. E. McNeil, P. O. Box 217, Globe, Ariz., writes to the Tyrrell Hygienic Institute:

"I have been using the J. B. L. Cascade for the past twenty-five years and call it our cheap family physician for the reason that I have never had to call in a physician to treat one of the family. What a pity more of the human race are not acquainted with the virtues of the Cascade to family."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" cleanses the lower intestine its entire length and keeps it always free of poisonous waste. Thousands testify that Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Biliousness, Headaches and all the many serious troubles which they cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Natural Treatment.

Liggett's stores, formerly Riker-Jaynes, will be glad to show you the "J. B. L. Cascade" explain its simple operation and will give you free on request, an interesting little book by Dr. Chas. Tyrrell of New York, a noted specialist on internal bathing for 25 years in that city. Clip this out as a reminder to ask for the booklet at your first opportunity.—Adv.

Backache
only a Symptom

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women.

For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring American women to health.

The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Coventry

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and legs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine, and I tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking it to their advantage. You may use my name for a testimonial." — Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Hunt tells how it helped her. Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at anytime." — Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 171 Davison Ave.

AUTO SMASHES STONE FRONT

In order to avoid striking another automobile A. R. Corey of Ayer, operating a seven-passenger touring car, turned his machine on the sidewalk and crashed through the store front of Steinberg at the corner of Middlesex and Pearl streets late last evening. The automobile was filled with soldiers, but fortunately no one was injured.

Corey claims that he was en route to Ayer with the soldiers and when he reached the corner of Middlesex and Pearl streets an automobile which was slightly in advance of his machine, turned from Middlesex street without signaling, forcing Corey to drive his car to the left over the sidewalk. Corey's machine became wedged in the store front and was allowed to remain there obstructing the sidewalk in Pearl street until this forenoon.

Turks Seek Alliance With Lenine

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Mustapha Kemal Pasha, head of the nationalist Turkish government set up in Asia Minor, has proposed an alliance with Nikolai Lenine, Russian Bolshevik premier, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen. An army of 3000 Turks to attack the nationalist forces, the report says, has been organized by General Ahmed Bey, at Belu Kessen.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS
CONFER AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Republican national committeemen from a dozen states held an informal conference here today for the purpose of discussing plans for the presidential campaign of 1920.

National Chairman Will H. Hays, who presided, said the chief object of the conference was to make preliminary arrangements for the meeting of the full committee next month in Washington, when the place for holding the national convention will be chosen.

Although no action looking to the selection of the convention city can be taken by the conference, representatives from St. Louis and Chicago were present to urge favorable consideration of their respective cities.

Among others at the conference were vice chairman of the national committee John T. Adams of Iowa; Secretary James B. Reynolds of Massachusetts; John T. King of Connecticut; A. T. Hart, Kentucky and Rudolph K. Hynicka of Ohio.

TO PRESERVE FORESTS

Large Appropriation for Benefit of New Hampshire and Merrimack River

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—Senator Keyes of New Hampshire has introduced a bill for preservation of the White Mountain forests along the line of the Weeks bill which has expired by limitation. Mr. Keyes asks for an appropriation of $10,000,000 to be available at the rate of $2,000,000 a year for five years for purchase of forest land in the eastern states. Mr. Keyes urges it as a means of protecting navigable streams and timber land. He is a member of the committee on agriculture and will make every effort to have his bill passed by congress. The headwaters of the Merrimack river are in the White Mountain reserve.

ALLIED BAZAAR WAS BIG SUCCESS

Successful beyond the hopes of its sponsors, the allied bazaar at the First Primitive Methodist church— which has been in highly auspicious since Wednesday evening to raise money for the building fund of the church—came to a close Saturday evening. The features of the night were a bean supper, served by the women of the church, and an up-to-the-minute entertainment under the direction of John Poolman. Among the local artists who appeared in the program were Miss Helen Smith, Mrs. John Tonks, William Booth, Herbert Ashton, Miss Alice Scoble, Charles Nellie, Stephen Ashton, Joseph E. Wiedling, H. Graham Tassell, Mrs. Jenkins, Miss Is. Smith, Miss Grace Mahoney, Jane Smith, Miss Esther Atkinson, F. Smith, Charles Pierce and John P. E. Nordgren of the Swedish Lutheran church acted as chairman of the evening.

HALLOWEEN FRANK

Boys Set Trap for Tewksbury Man

It was only a Halloween prank, but it had a serious sequel in police court today.

Two Tewksbury boys, Tony Furtadi and Jesse Lebonite, had skillfully stretched a rope across William Davenport's piazza on the evening of ghosts and goblins, according to the testimony.

Then they rang Mr. Davenport's doorbell with might and main. Mr. Davenport came out and tripped over the rope. The tripping aforesaid resulted in many and various bruises to Mr. Davenport.

Mr. Davenport thought that Harry Springman, a youth in that vicinity, was responsible.

He so alleged to the police, and Harry faced a charge of assault and battery today as a consequence.

After hearing the stories of "those present," Judge Knight ordered Springman discharged, and stated that the two boys, Furtadi and Lebonite, must answer in juvenile court for their share in the affair.

BAPTISTS RAISE $1000

To help make up a half million dollars needed by the Baptist denomination throughout the country to meet the condition— which John D. Rockefeller has promised to give $2,000,000 for Baptist missionary work, members of the First Baptist church raised $1000 at the morning and evening services yesterday.

MISSOURI WOMEN IN POLITICS

The annual conference of the Missouri State Suffrage Association held in Saint Louis voted to turn itself into the Missouri League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan organization for progressive legislation. Its first act voted a demand that women be invited and permitted to participate in all matters connected with choosing delegates for the coming national conventions of their parties.

Among others, the convention put itself on record as favoring these things:

Calling a state convention for the purpose of providing a new constitution for the state of Missouri;

A budget system for national, state and city governments;

A reform in the system of state taxes.

LADIES OF CHARITY HOLD MEETING

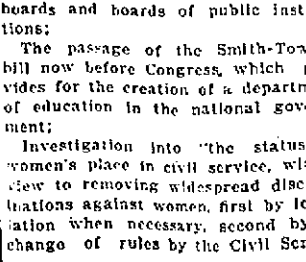

The Ladies of Charity of St. John's hospital held a regular meeting yesterday to discuss plans for the incorporation of the organization as a permanent society and its affiliation with a similar organization in France. It had been intended to hold the election of officers yesterday but this was postponed owing to the other business which came up. Miss Rose A. Dowd was in the chair and there was a large attendance. Preceding the business meeting there was benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I.

600 New Policemen on Duty in Hub

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Six hundred new policemen were officially reported on regular duty here today. They were successful applicants for positions made vacant by the strike of 1100 members of the department last September. The number of men still in training for police work was not disclosed, but the civil service commission has announced the certification of more than 1000, mostly former service men, since the general recruiting began. There are 2000 state guardsmen still on duty here, or about half the number called into service when the strike began. Further reductions in the guardsmen's forces are expected shortly.

Berlin Communist Quarters Raided

BERLIN, Sunday, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Berlin was covered with snow on the occasion of the first anniversary of the revolution. The day passed without a single disturbance, the meetings held in all sections of the city being only moderately attended. Communist headquarters were raided by the authorities today, the troops seizing red literature and maps showing division of Berlin into 18 communist districts.

Allied Victory Pilgrimage

PARIS, Nov. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—An allied victory pilgrimage to Lourdes has been organized for Armistice day, Nov. 11. It will be led by Cardinal Luçon, archbishop of Rheims. Nineteen French and four British generals will take part.

LOWELL PEOPLE TO ATTEND DEDICATION

Many Lowell friends of Rev. Henri Filion, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Everett, will attend the dedication of his new church, which will take place next Sunday morning. It is expected that Cardinal O'Connell will officiate at the ceremony and that many clergymen from various parts of the state will be present, for Rev. Fr. Filion is well and favorably known and counts a host of friends among the clergy.

Rev. Fr. Filion is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Anaclet Filion of Hildreth street, this city. He was ordained about six years ago and four years ago when Rev. Victor C. Choquette, another former resident of this city, who was then pastor of St. Joseph's church, Brockton, he was appointed pastor of the Everett church. The young priest got busy at once on plans for the erection of a new church and as a result of his activities, a handsome little church building of granite was erected, the work having been done by Contractor Zuel Houle of Dracut. The new church which will seat about 1000 people, is now finished and the first service will be held next Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Filion and members of their family will be among the Lowell people who will attend the dedication.

ROUNDHOUSE READY FOR OCCUPANCY

It is expected that the engine house and passenger car yard of the Boston & Maine railroad at Middlesex Village will be ready for occupancy by December 1. With the exception of the laying of the hot air pipes for the heating system, the large round house is practically finished and now a large gang of men is busy grading and laying tracks in the yard. The building and yard will cost approximately $1,000,000.

It is being done by the Wilson English Construction company and at present about 250 men are employed on the job. Work on the erection of the round house and the laying of the yard was started in September, 1918, and was rushed along until June 9 of the present year, when the company received orders from the general manager of railroads to suspend operations until further notice. As a result of these orders over 200 men were laid off, but on October 1 last, when work was resumed, most of them returned.

Chief Engineer Wass, who is in charge of the work, stated this morning that unless something unforeseen happens he will be ready to turn over the building and yard to the Boston & Maine by December 1. He said about 250 men are now at work grading and putting in their finishing touches and when they finish their work the engine house and yard will be the finest of their kind in this part of the country. For the next three weeks work will be rushed along and if necessary more men will be put to work in order to complete the job by the first of the month.

HEAVY PENALTIES FOR THEFT OF AUTOS

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—The National Motor Vehicle Theft Act passed by congress in October and which became a law without the signature of the president on October 26th is far-reaching and important in its effect yet seems to have been given but little publicity. The term motor vehicle includes automobiles, motor cycles or any other self-propelling vehicle not designed for running on rails, and the terms interstate or foreign commerce as used in the law include transportation from one state or territory to another or to and from a foreign country, which of course includes crossing the border of Mexico or Canada.

The law provides that whoever shall transport or cause to be transported, in interstate or foreign commerce or whoever shall receive, conceal, barter, sell or dispose of any motor vehicle, moving or which is a part of or which constitutes interstate or foreign commerce, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5000, or by imprisonment for not more than five years or both.

The far-reaching scope of this act is increased by the further provision that "Any person violating this act may be punished in any district in or through which such motor vehicle has been transported or removed by such offender."

Thefts of automobiles have become so frequent and the difficulty of conviction so great, when the culprits have passed from state to state or over the border of Mexico or Canada, that congress has now taken a strong hand in the matter and made it a heavy penal offense to steal or transport stolen automobiles and other motor vehicles.

MANHATTANS AND CADETS TO MEET

The O.M.C. Cadets and Manhattans club tomorrow afternoon on the South common oval at 2.30 o'clock. Both elevens have worked hard in preparation for this game and as they seemed evenly matched a close, hard contest is expected. Lines who are following in the footsteps of their brilliant brother Jim, now at Lehigh, and the pick of the Belvidere players, will be in the O.M.C. lineups. The Manhattans will choose from the following men: Healand, Grant, McCardle, L. Dyer, McNulty, Ross, Ingalls, McGlinchey, J. Dyer, Anderson, Egan, L. Dyer, Sweeney, Sweeney, Cochran and Cunningham.

The Manhattans players are asked to report for practice tonight at 7 o'clock and to be at the club rooms tomorrow at 1.30 p. m. to prepare for the game.

THE LAURELS DANCE

The Fawcett boat house will be the scene of one of the prettiest affairs of the season on next Wednesday night when the Laurels will hold their first annual dance. The friends of this club will enjoy cabaret singing by Lowell's coming young tenor, John O'Brien, whose popularity is ever growing. Dominick Moynihan will give an exhibition of New York's favorite modern waltz. This, with Campbell's Rango orchestra, is bound to make one's feet itchy and just anxious to get out on that glassy floor to enjoy the popular pastime of the season.

The officers in charge of the dance are Frank O'Shea and Thomas E. Clark.

18-HOLE COURSE

Vesper Golfers to Be On New Links Next Year

Rapid strides are being made in the work of extending the Vesper Country Club golf links from a 9 to an 18-hole course and Arthur Bartlett, engineer in charge of the job, says that it will be ready for play by August of 1920. He reported this fact at a recent special meeting of the club, when it was voted to carry on the work during the winter. When the weather permits, stone walls and trees on the mainland side of the creek will be removed, thus paving the way for the winter work, which will start with a rush next spring.

With the completion of the 18-hole course, the Vesper club may well look forward to state and even national championship contests, which will be made to attract big open meetings here and players of national repute.

THINKS PETER BISSOP IS PETER LEVESQUE

That Peter Bissop of Bridge street, who was recently arraigned by the federal authorities in Boston on the charge of stealing letters from a private mail box, is really Peter Levesque, who escaped from the Worcester insane asylum a year ago, is the belief of Supt. Welch of the local police. Bissop or Levesque, was arraigned in Lowell police court charged with stealing a letter from a private mail box in the down town district, and afterwards turned over to the federal court, where he was held in $500 for hearing Nov. 12.

THE LAURELS DANCE

The Fawcett boat house will be the scene of one of the prettiest affairs of the season on next Wednesday night when the Laurels will hold their first annual dance. The friends of this club will enjoy cabaret singing by Lowell's coming young tenor, John O'Brien, whose popularity is ever growing. Dominick Moynihan will give an exhibition of New York's favorite modern waltz. This, with Campbell's Rango orchestra, is bound to make one's feet itchy and just anxious to get out on that glassy floor to enjoy the popular pastime of the season.

The officers in charge of the dance are Frank O'Shea and Thomas E. Clark.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully I submit and represents Helen D. Blanchard of Lowell, in said County, that she was lawfully married to Ralph E. Blanchard, now of parts unknown, at Dedham, Norfolk County, Massachusetts, on the seventh day of May, 1918, and thereafter said Ralph E. Blanchard lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Schuette, in the County of Plymouth, said Commonwealth, and at Lowell, in said County, that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said Ralph E. Blanchard being of the first order of the same, at said Lowell, on or about the fourth day of April, 1919, and on divers other days and times was guilty of strictly and abusive treatment towards your libellant.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony which have been between your libellant and the said Ralph E. Blanchard, be decreed by the Court, and that the care and custody of their minor child, Ruth E. Blanchard, born May 1917, be given to your libellant.

Dated this ninth day of July, A. D. 1919.

Helen D. Blanchard.

Armistice Day Will Mark the Birth of World Democracy

"SLUTE YOUR DADDY!"

BY HENRY D. LINDSLEY

Chairman National Executive Committee The American Legion

November 11 will become a national holiday in the United States.

It will also become the first great international patriotic holiday for a large part of the world.

It is inevitable that those powers which, in alliance, fought the German empire and brought victory to the democracies of the earth, select a common day on which all of their peoples will join in the celebration of victory.

November 11, "Armistice day," therefore, will be unique in history. Hundreds of millions of people throughout the world will look forward to its coming. Every continent will contribute to its celebration. People of widely different habits, history and religion, will understand that this day brought to a close the mightiest war the world has even seen, and that on it the free peoples of the earth knew that their right to work out their respective destinies had become the determined purpose of the world.

In no country can Nov. 11 have greater meaning than in the United States. The ideals of democracy have largely become a world force because of the American republic.

The international annual celebration of November 11 will bind together the peoples of the world, will help promote a common understanding among them, and will make easier the efforts of those who, in years to come, strive for peace and good will among all mankind.

In the celebration of armistice day in the United States we have the right to hope that the sacrifices of our country in the great war will in measure be compensated for by an annual rebirth of patriotism and a national understanding of what a republic means and what is necessary for a people to do for its prevention.

There should be some national anniversary day on which the elimination of class distinction within a republic would be emphasized.

We should not celebrate Armistice day if it has this meaning in a perfunctory manner, nor should we accept thoughtlessly the admonitions which will annually occur on this national holiday and which are intended to make us live back into Nov. 11, 1918. The living forces which create the national holiday should be a part of each of its recurrences, and the baptism of blood which consecrated Nov. 11, 1918, should serve as a benediction to those annual days which for it will be celebrated thereafter.

the elementary schools the exercises were confined to the various classrooms. Stories of the heroes of the conflict, notable dates in the struggle and its effect on modern history were discussed by the teachers and pupils.

High School Program

Owing to the incapacity of the high school hall to take care of the entire membership of the school at one time, the Armistice day exercises at that school were held twice today. The students of the main building went to the hall at 11:20 and those in the annexes shortly after 12 o'clock. The following program was carried out in each instance with Frederick R. Woodward, acting headmaster, presiding:

Legion Ball Tonight

The American Legion, Lowell post, will hold its first formal social function this evening in Associate hall when it will stage a ball in observance of Armistice day. The veterans have been working on the affair for months and look forward to a big success. Arrangements have been made to accommodate an exceptionally large crowd.

Tomorrow evening Company K Associates will stage a dance at the Community club in Dutton street in observance of the holiday, and this also is scheduled to bring out a large crowd.

In the Churches

A number of the local churches will observe Armistice day with special services tomorrow. In the Protestant churches services were held yesterday in commemoration of departed heroes, but many of the Catholic churches will hold their memorial services tomorrow.

Members of the Young Men's Catholic Lyceum are to have a high mass of requiem said at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for the members of the organization who lost their lives on the battlefield. The honor roll of the C.Y.M.L. contains two gold stars, one for Edward Quinn and the other for Charles Wallace.

As part of the tribute of the South End section of the city to their heroes of the world war high masses of requiem will be celebrated in the three Catholic churches of that section at 9 o'clock. The memorial masses will be said at St. Peter's, St. Anthony's and the Sacred Heart churches. Large congregations are expected in each instance. At the Gorham street Protestant Methodist church yesterday South End heroes were also honored by memorial services conducted under the direction of the pastor, Rev. N. W. Matthews. These four church services were requested by the committee in charge of the South End celebration as a fitting part of the observance of Armistice day.

The local aerie of Eagles will hold their annual flag day exercises tomorrow evening in their hall in Central street and the program has been arranged so as to serve also as an observance of Armistice day.

The various theatres will stage special programs for the holidays and the local dance halls will provide a source of entertainment both afternoon and evening.

The mills of the city will remain open for those of their employees who wish to work, but the larger downtown stores will be closed all day. Provision stores will be open for a short time in the forenoon.

Not Like Last Year

This year's observance of Armistice day will not be characterized by the lively features that were in evidence a year ago when the first news of the ending of the war came to the city. It was early Monday morning that the glad tidings were flashed to the world and immediately upon receipt of the news Lowell people threw down the worries and cares of everyday life and began a celebration that lasted 48 hours with hardly a let-up. Mill operatives who had left their homes with the intention of starting another week's work suddenly lost all desire for such mundane activity.

The day was given over to a series of sporadic parades that sprang up without warning in all parts of the city. Bands were hired and gave impromptu concerts in various parts of the city. Community sing leaders were kept busy directing the exuberant crowds in the intricacies of victory songs. Then came the word that the governor had made the next day, Tuesday, a holiday and Mayor Thompson outlined a program for the formal observance that ended with a big street parade in the afternoon.

The Thursday before the real news came, a bogus report was sent out that the armistice had been signed and the employees of the Billerica car shops immediately paraded from the Middlesex street station to city hall where exercises were held. But it was on Nov. 11, 1918, that the city saw its most enthusiastic celebration.

Will Not Call Off Strike

before the country as an unqualified endorser of the strike of the soft coal miners and as bitterly opposed to the action of the government in attempting to end the strike through injunction proceedings. The government's action is characterized as "so autocratic as to stagger the human mind."

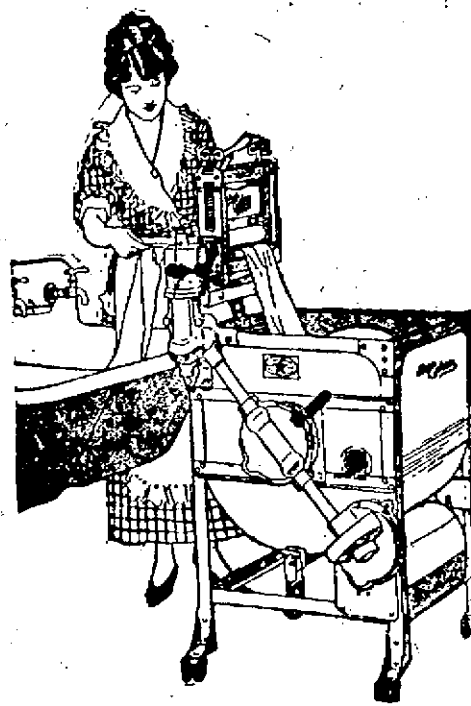

Indorsement of the strike was announced last night in a statement issued by the executive council of the federation which pledged to the strikers the full support of organized labor and appealed to the citizenship of the country to give like "indorsement and aid to the men engaged in this momentous struggle."

After going into the history of events leading up to the strike and since, the statement declared the course of the government in securing a court order at Indianapolis, Saturday, directing officials of the miners' organization to call off the strike by tomorrow night, an invasion of the right of the miners and demanded the withdrawal of the injunction. Use of the Lever act under which the court proceedings were instituted was severely condemned as an injustice to all liberty loving Americans. After declaring that "by all the facts in the case the miners' strike is justified; we indorse it; we are convinced of the justice of the miners' cause," the statement concluded with the appeal to all citizens to support the strikers and promised support of organized labor.

The action was taken without the participation of William Green, general secretary of the Mine Workers, who is a member, but all the remaining principal officers of the A. F. of L. were present.

The council began its sessions at 3 o'clock after its members had been hastily summoned, and the statement which formulated its action was carefully revised and re-written by Samuel Gompers and Frank Morrison, president and secretary respectively, of the federation.

There were 2200 delegates, representing 500,000 miners, seated in the convention which called the strike, the

To Urge Pay Increase for Naval Officers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Sufficient personnel for all dreadnaughts and cruisers of the navy are now in the service, Secretary Daniels today told a house naval sub-committee. The secretary was discussing widely circulated reports that many first line ships were laid up at navy yards because of a lack of officers and crews. Mr. Daniels conceded that there was a shortage of machinists and said the chief cause of the failure of the navy to obtain high grade men through voluntary enlistment was the high pay offered for service on merchant ships. The secretary said it was his intention to recommend increased pay for officers, but he was unable to present his plan today, the committee session being cut short by a call of the house.

Drys Lead by But 45 Votes

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Fate of the federal prohibition amendment was made more uncertain today as additional official returns were tabulated at the office of the secretary of state. The official returns from 86 of the 88 counties tabulated at noon gave the drys a lead of only 45 votes in favor of the amendment.

Discuss Right of Berger to Hold Seat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Discussion of the right of Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee socialist, whose appeal from conviction under the espionage act is now pending, to retain his seat in congress, begun in the house today after an effort by Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, to delay the proceedings was defeated by a vote of 279 to 1.

UNION OFFICIALS

ACT ON COURT ORDER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—Officials of the united mine workers of America including Acting President John L. Lewis and secretary-treasurer William Green and members of the executive council, met here today to discuss Judge Anderson's order issued on Saturday directing the union leaders to call off the strike order. At the meeting were district presidents, members of the executive board of the organization and the entire personnel of the miners' scale committee.

Members of the general committee, who arrived last night and early this morning, would not comment on the situation.

The majority of the miners' officials seemed to take their cue from the statement issued last night by John L. Lewis, acting president of the mine workers, in which he said "statements to the effect that I shall or shall not comply with the mandatory proceedings of the injunction writ are unauthorized, and premature."

Reports from the various coal fields since the strike was called indicate that many union men contend that the general committee of the miners has no authority to rescind the order for the strike which, they assert, was decided upon by the regular convention of the united mine workers, meeting in Cleveland in September.

It was not known this morning what action was contemplated by the government in the event that the recall order should be issued by the general committee but not obeyed by individual members of the union. A hint, however, was given during the proceedings in the United States district court Saturday when Judge Anderson said "the Lever act makes it an unlawful conspiracy for two or more persons to arrange to limit the production of coal. That is perfectly apparent to me. Everybody knows that."

No action, it said, is planned by the government until after the time limit set by Judge Anderson for the issuance of the strike recall order. Meanwhile, attorneys for the union were said to be busy preparing their case for an appeal to the United States Circuit court of Appeals in Chicago.

JOHN J.
Donovan
—FOR—MAYOR

An Open Letter—

Among the private and non-commissioned officers of A. E. F. in active service, Sergeant John J. Donovan is said to have been the oldest man. Indeed, if there are others of the A. E. F. boasting of fifty years of age or more, the writer hasn't seen it so stated; and he's got to be shown. At any rate it is a distinction that Sergeant Donovan could well be proud of; but it's a sure thing his friends are.

While Sergeant Donovan was still in France his name was linked with the majority of Lowell. Upon his return, and ever since the evidence of a growing and insistent demand that he announce his candidacy was unmistakable. It came from among all conditions and classes in the community. Since he has announced his candidacy he is in the light to win and will employ every honorable method to that end.

Eighteen years a police officer, John J. Donovan knows something of the police business, whose first function is that of protecting the person and property of the people of Lowell.

He feels as do his fellow citizens, that the time has come to reorganize the police department of the City of Lowell on the basis of (the Square Deal and Efficiency).

As a candidate for Mayor of the City of Lowell and the strong probability of his success in that role, the citizens of Lowell should know the man they vote for. We think they do know him, for here, where he has practically lived all his life, he counts his friends and acquaintances by the thousands.

He is a man's man—sincere, honorable and just. He is a man of the people and he stands for the people.

His alma mater is life's rough school with its ups and downs. He knocks and its rewards, and he loves it.

John J. Donovan arrives at past 50 years of age, wearing nobody's hat but his own—and that hat is in the ring. His intelligence in broad, his judgment is sound, while his honesty and patriotism are unquestioned.

The citizens of Lowell feel that the time is ripe to relegate small men of doubtful principles and little ability to the rear, and to unite upon real men and real principles in our local government. Instinctively they are turning to men like JOHN J. DONOVAN to lead in a fight for decent and capable conduct of the city's business.

Shipping Board Steamer Polar Land Lost At Sea---No Trace of Crew

SINKS 75 MILES OFF CAPE BRETON

British Steamer Rushed to Aid of Polar Land But Found No Trace of Crew

Another Rescue Ship Searching for Missing Men—Other Ships Damaged

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Shipping board steamer Polar Land reported yesterday from Halifax as abandoned 75 miles off Cape Breton, has sunk and another ship that responded to the wireless calls for help is "endeavoring to rescue" the crew from the life boats, "a wireless message to the agents here stated today. The name of the rescue ship is not given, but it is presumed to be the British steamer Kanawha.

The Polar Land was managed and operated by the West India Steamship Co.

No Trace of Crew
HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 10.—The steamer Kanawha has found no trace of the crew of the Polar Land after a four hours' search in the vicinity of the lost ship's position reported before she went down, according to a wireless message from the Kanawha today.

The steamer Strathmillan reported by wireless that she would reach at noon the position where the Polar Land went down. She will renew the search for the crew which was abandoned by the Kanawha when she resumed her voyage to England.

Leaking Nine Days
BOSTON, Nov. 10.—The shipping board steamer West Haven, towing the board's disabled freighter, West Hematite, sent word ashore today that because she had been leaking nine days an was reaching the limits of her oil supply, she would have to put into Vineyard Haven tomorrow morning. The West Haven, bound probably from La Pallice for Norfolk, will go into drydock for repairs as soon as possible. The West Hematite, bound from Mayre for New York, has been without oil since Nov. 2.

Caught in Gale
HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 10.—The steamer Brighton from St. John's, N. F., for New York with fish, has put into Whitehead, 10 miles northeast of here, on her beam ends after battling gales raging off shore for the past week. Reports to the marine and fisheries department today said part of her cargo was being transferred to lighters. Reporting boiler trouble the steamer ship H. F. Morse, New York to India, sent a wireless to the marine and fisheries department today asking for assistance.

LEGION HOLDS CONVENTION

2000 Delegates, From All Branches of Service at Opening Session

Gov. Burnquist and Mayor Meyers Among Speakers—Message From Foch

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 10.—Two thousand delegates, representing all nations and classes of service men and women attended the opening session of the first convention of the American Legion here today.

Governor Burnquist, President Cyrus Northrop, president emeritus, of the University of Minnesota and Mayor Meyers delivered brief speeches. Henry D. Lindsay of Texas, national chairman, presided.

Discussion of candidates for national offices, with at least a dozen prominently mentioned for first national head of the legion, has brought an emphatic refusal from at least one delegate.

"When I say no, I mean no," declared Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, one of the delegates from New York, when his candidacy was mentioned. Others receiving support from their state delegations include Col. Milton J. Foreman of Chicago, Henry D. Lindsay of Texas, Col. Benson W. Hough of Ohio, and Thomas S. Wolmsley of Louisiana.

With a mass of decisions affecting organization to be settled, first consideration today was given to selection of committees and a tentative program prepared by an advance committee of state officers for submission to the first session. With Tuesday devoted almost entirely to celebration of armistice day, Wednesday's sessions are expected to prove busy ones for the delegates. Mayor Meyers has proclaimed a city holiday Tuesday, asking that all possible working men and women be released to join with the war veterans in observing the first anniversary of the cessation of fighting in the great war.

Greetings from Marshal Foch, allied commander-in-chief, were transmitted by J. J. Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States.

RAID AT CAMBRIDGE

Dist. Atty. Tufts and Federal Officers Seize Books on Russian Revolution

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 10.—Four thousand volumes of a book on the Russian revolution, bearing the imprint of the New York Communist press and alleged to contain radical propaganda, were seized in a raid on a Brattle square bookbindery here today. No arrests were made.

The raid was conducted by men from the office of Nathan A. Tufts, district attorney for Middlesex county, officers of the department of justice and the city police. The manager of the bookbindery told the officers that 2000 of the books had been shipped to Chicago and 1500 to Boston.

WILL CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

Lowell to Have Informal Observance of Peace Anniversary

Schools Honor World War Heroes—Special Church Services Tomorrow

Armistice day, the first anniversary of the signing of the agreement which brought to a practical termination the world war, will be fittingly observed in Lowell tomorrow, although the day's program will be purely informal.

The municipal authorities have arranged no civic observance but the commercial activities of the city will be practically at a standstill and many of the churches plan services in memory of the world war heroes who made the supreme sacrifice.

The observance really began today when the schools of the city held informal exercises, to commemorate the virtual ending of the great war. At the high school a formal program was carried out in the school hall but in

TRYING TO SETTLE THE MOULDERS' STRIKE

In an effort to settle the strike of moulders which has been in progress in Lowell since last May, a conference of representatives of the city and the local moulders' union and representatives of local foundries was held in the mayor's reception room at city hall today before Bernard F. Sipple of the State Board of Arbitration and Conciliation. The conference ended in a virtual deadlock but enough progress toward the settlement of the strike was made to warrant another conference Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the same place.

The moulders were represented by Charles E. Anderson, secretary of the local trades and labor council; Eugene L. Murphy, representing the moulders of this district; George H. Keating and Michael Larkin. The local foundries, employees of the men, were represented by William C. Doherty, John Doherty, James P. Robinson, J. E. Lang, F. S. Pevey and Patrick Ryan. The striking moulders have asked for a reduction in the number of their working hours from 56 to 48 per week and an increase in wages from $5.25 per day to $5.50.

There was fairly general sentiment expressed by the employers at this morning's conference in favor of 48 hours' work per week but J. F. Lang, representing the Lamson Co., said that he "couldn't see" 48 hours per week, but would consider 50.

Mr. Murphy suggested that the object of the conference was to get the men back to work as soon as possible so that they might help appease the country-wide demand for more production. "They have done just the opposite in my experience," he said.

Mr. Murphy replied that the matter worked both ways, but in the majority

More Arrests in Campaign To Rid the Country of Undesirable Aliens

MUST PUT LOWELL IN HONOR LIST

Efforts of Red Cross Roll Call Workers Redoubled Today

Team Workers' and Executive Committee to Meet This Evening

All the energies of the Red Cross roll call workers were redoubled today in the final effort to place the city in the honor list in the total number of memberships enrolled. Tonight the team workers and executive committee members will meet to give and hear the final results and although there still remain a few straggling reports, the bulk is expected to be turned in.

After the meeting last Friday evening there still remained at least 15,000 memberships to obtain in the city and at this time it is impossible to gauge how close to this figure the campaign has come. The week-end was a busy one as the goal was far away, but the campaign directors feel confident that with the mills reporting this evening and the teams turning in large reports the 20,000 total will be reached.

W. N. Goodell, treasurer of the roll call, was at the Union National bank all day today for the purpose of receiving memberships and he reported a brisk business at the noon hour. Excellent results were obtained by the young women in charge of the booth in the Chaffoux store on Saturday. They were materially assisted by Miss Margaret Fields, leading woman of the Lowell Players at the Opera House, who spent considerable time at the booth soliciting subscriptions.

No authentic reports have been received as yet from the outside towns included in North Middlesex district, but these will be in tonight.

Of instances these committees urged greater rather than less production. He said that it was the duty of a shop committee to take up the grievance of any individual moulder and if the committee could not give him satisfaction to bring the matter to the foreman and later, if necessary, to the higher officials of the plant. Mr. Lang said that no grievances had been brought to him in the Lamson plant.

Mr. Lang said that he had only limited powers in the conference as he was not an agent for his firm. But inasmuch as he was unable to make money by paying moulders $5.25 per day, he couldn't see where he was going to benefit by paying $5.50. He said that he had to consider the proposition as a cold matter of business. He was agreeable to adjournment until a later date so that he might gather more data on the matter.

At 12:20 it was agreed to adjourn until 10 a. m. next Wednesday. This morning's conference was held as a result of the efforts of Mayor Perry D. Thompson.

Labor Leaders Say Union Officers Will Not Comply With Court Order

"Up to Courts; No Time to Get Cold Feet," Says Sec. Tumulty

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Labor leaders predicted today that international officers of the United Mine Workers of America, meeting at Indianapolis, would not call off the coal strike as directed by Federal Judge Anderson, whatever the legal consequences might be.

White house officials refused today to comment on the American Federation of Labor statement.

"The situation is in the hands of the courts," Secretary Tumulty said, adding: "This is no time to get cold feet."

NEWSPRINT PAPER

SUPPLY IS SHORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The Chicago Tribune prints under the caption, "The Newspaper Shortage," an editorial dealing with the newsprint paper supply throughout the country. The editorial follows:

"The newsprint paper supply is rapidly approaching a stage which will be fatal to many newspapers. The present normal demand is perhaps 25 per cent. greater than the supply, and prices are on a famine basis and going higher. At present rates of advertising it is impossible for most newspapers to make money."

"If this situation was the result of manipulation for monopoly, it might be dealt with by the usual legal measures through prosecution and legislation are disappointing in results. In fact, the present situation is the result of short-sighted attempts in the past to restrict the price of paper, which has kept capital out of manufacture, so that the industry is now not able to meet the publishers' needs."

"The crisis can be met only by voluntary self-denial unless it be allowed to develop until the weaker publishers go under. The Tribune is in a fortunate situation because it manufactures its own paper, but it believes it would be a national misfortune if newspapers or other publications of merit were victimized by this abnormal conditions, perhaps even to the extent of being forced out of existence."

"The Tribune believes, therefore, that the stronger publications should forego their advantage to a reasonable extent, and enter into an agreement to curtail the consumption of newsprint paper. The agreement must be general and advertisers should give public spirited help by assenting to restrictions of space."

"The Tribune would be glad to lead the movement for restriction but, has gone as far as it feels it is reasonable that it should go until a general agreement is put in force. It stands ready, however, to join in a general movement to bring consumption down to the level of supply and thus save a situation which must soon prove disastrous to many publications and a public misfortune."

on the subject of shortbread, so popular with Scotch and English folk.

"But, good as was the old-fashioned kind," remarked our hostess, "it was so extremely rich that the heavy taste lingered long after eating."

"Well," said Betsy, "there's nothing like that about the shortbread we have at our house. Lorna Doone Biscuits. I have tried them and squares this time. They are light and ready to serve, any time."

"I was talking to mother about them only the other day," says that Lorna Doone.

When appetites call for shortbread, serve delicious LORNA DOONE Biscuits.

The enjoyment will last because these mealy, crumbly biscuits are not over-rich. The name LORNA DOONE is on every biscuit.

Sold by the pound and in the famous In-er-seal Trade Mark package.

REP. CORBETT TALKS ON NEW CHARTER

Representative Corbett, talking with a reporter today on the vote of last Tuesday where Plan B was rejected by the citizens, said that he interpreted the vote that the public really do want a change from the present form of government, and would have accepted Plan B had it not been for its several serious defects as applied to local government. The fact that Plan B was rejected by such a small majority is indication of this.

Mr. Corbett stated that his every effort next year will be to obtain favorable action upon his proposed charter by the legislature. He feels that he would not be doing his full duty to the citizens of Lowell, if he failed to make extraordinary efforts to have his charter presented to the people for consideration. He wants the co-operation of all citizens and organizations in the offering of suggestions or recommendations relative to his Charter, and will gladly accept same. In this connection he looks forward to receiving the support and active co-operation of public bodies such as the board of trade and the entire local delegation which includes two senators from Lowell, and with this support there is absolutely no question but that the people will have a chance to vote on the new charter next year.

Mr. Corbett says, "I am going to put this charter before the people next year if possible and hope for the support of representative citizens of all parties."

"The most fatal defect in Plan B was the elimination of the primaries which feature is embodied in my proposed charter, together with many other perfecting clauses that fully protect and cover the city's needs. It will be my purpose to have the public conversant with every detail and feature of the proposed charter. I have on hand about three hundred copies of the charter, and would be glad to give a copy to any citizen who would notify me that he wants one."

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE ON THE WAR PATH

Candidates for the office of mayor and alderman got into their stride Saturday evening at downtown forums and gave several thousand voters reasons why they should be considered for positions that are to be made vacant next month by the expiration of the terms of Mayor Thompson and Commissioners Donnelly and Morse.

Former Mayor James B. O'Donnell addressed large audiences at city hall and Tower's corner as did John J. Gilbride, another mayoralty aspirant, who was defeated two years ago by a slender margin. Former Mayor George H. Brown, candidate for alderman, spoke at various downtown points. John J. Donovan, candidate for mayor, made an active canvass among the voters during the evening and John F. Salmon, candidate for alderman, addressed several gatherings in Centralville.

Mr. O'Donnell spoke this noon at the Saco-Loew shops and Mr. Gilbride at the Lamson Co. plant in Walker street. A number of rallies are also scheduled for this evening by Messrs. O'Donnell, Gilbride and Salmon.

released after being questioned, may be rearrested.

Thirty-seven of the 1000 persons arrested Saturday night and early Sunday had membership cards of the communist party in their possession, the police said. Search is now being made for the complete membership rolls of the organization.

In addition to the nation-wide round-up of radicals directed by William J. Flynn, chief of the secret service of the department of justice, the senate legislative committee investigating radicalism, headed by Senator Clayton P. Lusk, is conducting a separate drive, mainly against the communists. Senator Lusk said that his reports showed a communist membership of over 7000 in this city alone.

More arrests of radical agitators were predicted by William J. Flynn, chief investigator for the department of justice. "We have a number of warrants for alleged agitators in New York and other parts of the country," he said, "and we expect to serve some of them today. We are not confining our work to the communist party but are covering all agitators."

The 37 "radicals" held after Saturday night's raids were questioned at police headquarters today by representatives of the department of justice, the Lusk committee and the department of immigration. A series of questions was prepared to be submitted to each prisoner. If the answers were unsatisfactory, officials stated, warrants for deportation would be asked.

300 Held in Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 10.—Virtually every Detroit police station, jail and other place of confinement today held federal prisoners, alleged radical agitators rounded up in raids begun last week. Approximately 300 persons have been arrested here. Smaller groups were taken at Jackson and Albion and further arrests are expected, the authorities intimated.

Of the 250 rounded up late Saturday night and Sunday morning, several held Canadian passports, the police declare, and they probably will be summarily deported.

HAPSBURG'S ART OBJECTS, WORTH $21,000,000 SOON TO BE SOLD

VIENNA, Nov. 10.—(By the Associated Press.) The Hapsburgs' centuries old accumulation of art objects, part of which is to be sold, is estimated to be worth $21,000,000. Paintings, rare manuscripts, Gobelins tapestries, old Oriental porcelain, goldsmiths' and silversmiths' work by the most famous Florentine jewelers and historical furniture are included. The furniture includes that of the room in Schoenbrunn Castle occupied by Napoleon in 1809.

The purpose of the sale, as announced, is to create a fund from which the poor may be fed for a time. All will not be sold, but enough so it will be the greatest sale in the history of artistic auctions. The peace conference ruled these were the property of Austria.

He now costs 6,000,000 crowns, and Austria is almost entirely without credit. It is believed that the returns from the art auction will raise at least a portion of one year's supplies.

The Gobelins tapestries from the Schoenbrunn Castle of the late Emperor Franz Josef alone are valued at 2,000,000 crowns. Other articles to be sold include the treasures of the Hofkapellkammer (court table chamber) including the magnificent services of pure gold and comprising many hundred pieces, the work of masters in gold work. They were used by Franz Josef only on very special state occasions.

The question, how the sale is to be arranged, in order to get as much money as possible, has not yet been decided. First there must be an understanding with the entente nations since important sales of state property cannot be made without their permission. The favorite plan however, if it is possible, is to place the articles at a public auction the most unusual the world of art has ever seen. In that

BRITISH PROPAGANDA

The Americanization committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce has revealed a most alarming movement richly financed and conducted by able men, the aim of which is to rewrite American history in favor of England and by every means possible eradicate the friendly feeling with which a very large portion of the American people regard England at the present time.

The report referred to shows an actual invasion of the United States by a veritable horde of British propagandists who have evidently enlisted in their cause many American college professors, many publishers of text books, many newspapers, and many public school officials through whom they have access to teachers' conventions at which they descend upon how dearly all Americans should love Britain for what we have gained from Anglo-Saxon civilization.

After Lord Northcliffe's return to England, after his prolonged visit to the United States in 1917, it was reported to parliament that he had left $150,000,000 for propaganda work and 10,000 agents to organize and conduct it in a systematic manner throughout this country.

Already they have made progress in spreading sentiment favorable to England, and unfavorable to America, charging even that our histories belie England wherever they accuse her of doing anything unfair towards the colonies.

Here is the program mapped out by Lord Northcliffe and published in his own paper, the London Times, on July 4, 1919:

"Efficient propaganda carried out by those trained in the arts of creating public good-will and of swaying public opinion towards a definite purpose... is now needed, urgently needed. To make a beginning, efficiently organized propaganda should mobilize the press, the church, the stage and the cinema; press into active service the whole educational systems of both countries, and root the spirit of good will in the homes, the universities, public and high schools and primary schools. It should also provide for subsidizing the best men to write books and articles on special subjects, to be published in cheap editions or distributed free to classes interested. Authoritative opinion upon current controversial topics should be prepared both for the daily press and for magazines; histories and text-books upon literature should be revised. New books should be added, particularly in the primary schools. Hundreds of exchange university scholarships should be provided. Local societies should be formed in every centre to foster British-American good-will in close co-operation with an administrative committee. Important articles should be broken up into mouthfuls for popular consumption, and booklets, cards, pamphlets, etc., distributed through organized channels to the public. Advertising space should be taken in the press, on the hearings and in the street cars, for steadily presenting terse, easily-read and remembered mind-compelling phrases and easily grasped cartoons, that the public may subconsciously absorb the fundamentals of a complete mutual understanding."

One special aim of the propaganda has been to discredit each and every statement made by the friends of Ireland in support of their claim to the right of independence for the Irish people. This is done usually through magazine articles and communications to prominent newspapers citing alleged statements from Irish peasants in which the latter are falsely quoted as saying that "Ireland wants home rule for the Pope" and other such foolish and deliberate falsehoods. Such statements may be credited by some who think that there must be some foundation for the bitterness of Ulster toward the rest of Ireland, but it has no justification anywhere.

But strange to say, this propaganda work has undertaken to strike at the very foundation of our Americanism. It is for this reason that the Americanization committee of the Chamber of Commerce has come out in denunciation of the whole business as directly opposed to the nationwide campaign for a more staunch Americanism. One of the special activities of the British propagandists is to get permission to address teachers' conventions, not on educational questions but upon the alleged worldwide benefit of British influence and what we owe to Anglo-Saxon civilization.

On October 30, the British general presented a Normal school at Providence, R. I., a British school "to be cherished by future generations." It was on October 31, that no less than three of the British propagandists appeared before different branches of the Middlesex county convention in Boston not to speak upon educational topics but upon the subjects of Anglo-Saxon civilization "as illustrated in America," the alleged misrepresentation of England in her dealings with the colonies and the further alleged reasons why all Americans should dearly love England.

All this and a great deal more that was a direct insult to every American and an open attack upon our institutions, was in pursuance of the Northcliffe program; and it shows that the 10,000 agents engaged in the work have been quite successful in reaching the public school teachers. By whose authority were they brought before the convention? Who selected the speakers to address the body on subjects entirely foreign to the business of the convention? Who ever is responsible must have been fully aware of the business in which these men are engaged. Have these school officials also become agents of the British propaganda? They have at least placed themselves under suspicion.

It is almost incredible to what an extent these British propagandists have mobilized the agencies that control public opinion just as Northcliffe suggested. Already school histories are written evidently to meet the requirements of the British agents, one of whom told the Middlesex County Teachers' convention that we do not touch our school children the historic truth in regard to the revolution and the colonies. Prof. Bushnell Hart who spoke here during one of our drives is out with a history which revises the history of the revolution in accordance with the ideas advanced by the British propagandists. The publishers as if indicating the purpose of the book announce that "it gives England a square deal."

Here is a paragraph from Hart's book:

The colonists were as well off as any other people in the world. They were proud of being Britons... and liked to think of themselves as part of the British empire. In 1773 a stamp act was passed by parliament... The British did not intend to send money away from America to support the home government; nevertheless the Colonists at once objected. As we look back, it is hard to see where the Colonists were robbed or oppressed."

Therefore, according to Hart, the revolution was a crime against England.

Owen Wisler, a supposed American, proves himself to be the veriest British toady by pandering to British sentiment in a manner beneath the dignity of any red-blooded American. Here is part of what he says on the subject of rewriting our text books:

"A movement to correct the school books has been started and will go on. It will be thwarted in every way possible. If ever we cease to be like you (England), if ever the streams of foreign blood that have poured into us, pollute the race current that flows through our veins from yours, we shall perish from the list of free nations."

After such un-American statements of the conditions prevailing at the outbreak of the revolution it may be refreshing to get the testimony of a certain George Washington who if we are to believe present day historians such as Prof. Hart, George Haynes Putnam and others, must have lied deliberately when he said in a letter to Byrd Fairfax at the opening of the revolution.

"I could wish that the dispute had been left to posterity to determine, but the crisis has arrived when we must assert our rights or submit to every imposition that can be heaped upon us till custom and use shall make us as tame and pliant as any of the Eastern European races."

In order to keep this propaganda out of our schools, it may be necessary to have a vigilance committee in every city to see that the works of pro-British writers are excluded and that the facts of history will not be distorted or concealed from the present or future generations of young Americans.

ONE YEAR OF PEACE

One year ago tomorrow the German signed the armistice terms. Marshal Foch dictated, and the armistice was signed. Our constitution battered and bloodied and sear-

One year ago a new era of peace began. A year was to turn from a time of making nations to pursuits of peaceful industry, and millions of men were to change from uniforms of destination to overalls of construction. Wonderful projects of readjustment were planned—and planning is about as far as they went.

One year has gone by and what plans of readjustment not piled on the junk heap are woefully in lack of repairs. We still are talking about the peace treaty. We haven't done anything with the railroads, nor with the merchant marine. The peace cost of living has undergone little change since the war, and we have done little but talk about it. Industrial unrest, and this includes both capital and labor, has been the subject of no end of controversy, while production lags, and waste continues.

One year has not brought the returned soldier nearer the farm he wanted and which the government was going to make possible for him to own.

But with all these things not accomplished, what matters left undone, business interrupted, woe to the nation and the people—are better off today than when the last shot was fired.

Our vast armies have been demobilized. The boys have come back home and gone back to their jobs. Their convention beginning tomorrow in Minneapolis shows they realize the need for team work—work together—for their own and their country's welfare. It has been this lack of team work, the peace-time failure of co-operation, which has slowed up production in the United States within the past 12 months, and which has stirred the feeling of unrest naturally following the war.

We who may not have the honor of being members of the American Legion may take a tip from them. We can learn that co-operation in peace is as fruitful and as necessary as it was during the war. Labor and capital must learn this lesson. So must the producers and consumers.

Our first year of peace would have been entirely different, immensely more pleasing to all of us, if the war-time spirit of co-operation hadn't ebbed away with the signing of that armistice.

Let us bring it back into life, starting this, the beginning of our second year of peace!—N. E. A.

THE PRIMARY CAMPAIGN

The municipal campaign for the primaries is now on in earnest and the candidates are each laying down to the citizens what our city needs, what has been done wrong in the past and how things should be done in the future.

There is a sufficient number of worthy men running for each office from which to make a good selection if the voters will only use judgment so as to distinguish truth, facts and honesty from confidence men put up by others who are wholly unfit and unreliable. The voter who would put a man in public office because he tells a hard back story or makes promises he cannot fulfill, should not be supported. No candidate whose record is known to be bad should receive any votes toward nomination or election.

We are not of the opinion that the electorate of Lowell is to blame for all the defects of our city government; but the man who supports unworthy candidates is untrue to himself and the municipality and does color to that false charge. These are times when we should select only the best men who seek election. It is the duty of every voter, therefore, to weigh well the merits of the candidates and vote only for the best. If all voters would follow this rule we would better city government, a better city and a more contented community.

SPECIAL SESSION

The special session of the legislature is to be called for the purpose of dealing with emergency matters including in particular, the street railway problems awaiting definite action. It is not likely, although quite possible, that the legislature will put up some legal barrier to street railway strikes. If the legislature is called, they can be brought under the provisions of law dealing with such offenses. The labor leaders claim the right to strike in a body is guaranteed by law and cannot be abolished. Where the safety of the public would be endangered by such a strike, it can be declared a criminal offense regardless of any claim to the contrary.

Let us all help in the round-up of these law-breakers. Our constitution is a sacred thing and these who want to break it are the enemies of the people. Let us all join in the effort to bring these law-breakers to justice. They never can have

Well, anyway, we will have no woe drop to be thankful for on next Thanksgiving day.

"It is not only right for a man to be rich," asserts the Rev. Cortland Myers of Boston, "but it is his duty to be rich." Recipe, please.

When one reads a news item telling the story of a man who was riding on a handcar without injured one wonders who the railroads were built for.

John Kennedy of East Weymouth has grown a potato shaped like a shoe, a fact that has led some wise to suggest that other farmers mayhap, can raise their own shoes in their back yards.

When a family possessed of an ordinary allotment of common sense gets into debt, says O. B. Jolly, it works a bit harder and spends a little less, but not so with a nation in debt. It works less and spends more.

Arthur Ardenault, 13, of Los Angeles, Cal., was convicted of stealing a dictionary, and now somebody suggests that this youthful thirst for knowledge may bring some lad to the point of swiping a spelling book and arithmetic.

Rum cherries used to head the list of a certain class of favorites in the good old days, but those of us who liked them will know them no more. Once upon a time a dear old grandmother sent her grandson, who was in college, a jar of rum cherries and he was credited with saying that he didn't care much for the cherries, but he did like the "spirit" in which they were sent.

A Variation

"How would you like to hear young children crying for bread?" asked the presiding elder who was endeavoring to raise a fund for the Impecunious Armenians.

"I reckon it would be a pleasant change," replied Gan Johnson, of Rumspunge Ridge, Ark. "They are always bawling for terbecker now."—Kansas City Star.

What Is a "Nett"

A silver gift "nett" was sold in a London art store at auction the other day for $15,000 and immediately London people began asking "what is a 'nett' for it is a word little known."

A "nett" is a relic of bygone days; a decorative piece of plate for the dinner table. It was generally shaped like a ship, often having a row of oars, and other odds and ends deemed necessary in these days of sumptuous meals.

How to Start a Fire

Although a coal fire always burns better especially at the start, when lighted from the bottom, it has been found to be much more economical if the paper and kindling wood are placed above the coal. A few small coals and kindlers are spread over the top of the kindling wood to enable the coal fire to be started. After the top layer begins to burn properly, the fire will spread slowly downward, if the air draft is right. This method secures the most comfortable combustion because the gases from the unburned coal at the bottom must pass through the burning layer at the top, and thus become completely burned.

It is admittedly harder to build and control this kind of a fire, but the saving in fuel often justifies the extra trouble.—Popular Mechanics.

A Persian Rob Roy

The Persian government, which has recently been showing unusual activity in repressing disorder, has hanged the famous robber chief, Nayib Hussein, who is so old as to have become almost legendary in his own life-time, and his son, Mahallah Khan, who have long terrorized the neighborhood of Kashan, says a Teheran dispatch to the London Times.

Nayib Hussein lived in a huge fortified castle on his "estate" near Kashan, where, supported by his sons, he levied blackmail in the bazaars of the town. Often he occupied the town itself, and so powerful did he become that in 1912 the government invited him to assume responsibility for the safety of the roads from Kashan to Kium and Yazd, where no caravan was safe from his depredations. His name was a household word in Persian homes, and was used as a bogey to frighten children. On six different occasions his violent end was announced in the official Gazette of Teheran, but the old brigand always turned up again.

His activities often were the start of serious complications, and on one occasion he caused the resignation of the foreign minister after a street fight with Cossacks in Kashan.

Fat Men in History

Fat and fame have not very often been combined, perhaps because stout men are generally inclined to be easy going, and therefore lacking in that push which brings a man to the fore. The only great statesman one can recall who was really a fat man was Charles James Fox, as can be seen even by his effigy in the Palace of Westminster, where he would make three of his great rival, Pitt the younger.

The only fat poet one can recall is Jamie Thompson, the author of "The

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Seasons." He was a comfortable, lazy, slovenly man, of whom it is related that he would eat peaches off the wall not taking the trouble to take his hands out of his pockets to pluck them. Yet, despite his lazy disposition, he managed to write one of the longest of English poems as well as "The Castle of Indolence," a castle in which he absolutely dwelt.

C. K. Chesterton, one of the stoutest of living celebrities, has on more than one occasion made up in the character of the Sage of Fleet-street with most excellent success.

It is a little remarkable, too, that one of his closest friends, Hilaire Belloc, is almost as noted for his bulk as he is for his criticism of military operations, his poetry, his history and his fiction.—London Answers.

Sugar

The store man comes in with a smile And takes a chair and chats awhile. Then asks the order (free from "And ten pounds of sugar")

"Why, my dear woman, sakes alive! (The storeman hopes that he'll survive)"

"Why, I can't even give you five, 'Five pounds of sugar'."

"Well, what's the best that you can. The lady asks, 'It's up to you!'"

"Hm! Maybe I can give you two 'Two pounds of sugar'."

The lady looks with frown and sigh As she faced a Wint'ry blast "Two pounds? How long will two 'Two pounds last?'"

"Two pounds of sugar,"

The store man goes, his duty done. The woman comes at set of sun. And in the basket she finds one. One pound of brown sugar!

in hades and persistently refuse to allow the dentist to remedy conditions until the sufferers are at the point of nervous collapse. And yet these self-same folks wouldn't hesitate a moment about calling on a doctor if they were unlucky enough to be afflicted with some purely bodily ailment; in fact, they couldn't get there half quick enough. There's something about the imposing, cold and chilly appearance of Mr. Dentist's array of drills, files, pliers and such which fills some of us with misgivings and dread every time we chance to drop in on him. And he's really a most likable fellow, too, if we'd give him half a chance.

THE BITUMINOUS COAL SITUATION

The machinery set up by the railroad administration to distribute coal now in transit by the railroads in accordance with the direction of the fuel administrator is in full operation and as a result wherever possible coal is being distributed in accordance with the priority list established by the fuel administrator where such coal is absolutely needed.

Therefore, where there is a real need for coal the subject should be taken up immediately with the railroad ordinarily supplying the coal and every effort will be made by such railroad to meet the demand.

It is, of course, essential both because of the present bituminous coal strike and in order that the needs for the coming winter may be looked after that fuel be used as economically as possible. It should be remembered that the railroads did not interfere with the delivery of coal to designated consignees until the day before the present strike began. In order to conserve coal as much as possible regional directors of railroads have been given authority wherever it seems absolutely necessary, to eliminate for the time being train service but in order to provide for the essential business needs of the country no general curtailment of train service is contemplated. The maintenance of the public transportation service is of paramount importance in order to serve the countless needs of the general public and the interruption of that service will be minimized as far as possible.

Variation is a law of nature.

Here are two Baldwin apple trees in the same orchard. The fruit of one tastes and is different from that of the other, although they are both Baldwins.

The same is true of coffee. There are not only many kinds of coffee, but there are many types of many kinds.

Thousands of our customers wonder why La Touraine Coffee never varies in goodness; why the quality has always the same rich, full flavor, the same coffee satisfaction hidden in every cup of it.

It is because La Touraine Coffee is selected coffee. It is made from selected beans of particular types of coffee grown on certain plantations noted for the quality of the coffee beans they grow.

This requires a coffee skill, so intuitive in operation that years of experience and a vast knowledge of coffee lore are the necessary qualifications for the selection of the correct beans that will meet the standard required by the La Touraine formula.

To have coffee-goodness upon your table, ask your grocer specifically for La Touraine, the Perfect Coffee—then you are assured of coffee satisfaction.

MISSOURI WOMAN SEEKING RELATIVES

Out in far away Missouri lives Margaret Hershey. She lives in the town of Marceline, to be exact. She has many relatives in Lowell whom she has not seen or heard from in 25 long years. She has written to Postmaster Sheehan asking him to send her the present address of her kinsfolk, if possible. The postmaster finds himself unable to comply with her request, but hopes that if any of her relatives are in the city they will give him the desired information, or write personally to Miss Hershey. The letter follows:

Marceline, Missouri, Nov. 1919.
Mr. John F. Meehan, Postmaster, Lowell, Mass.
My dear Sir:

I am writing you a few lines to ask you if you will do me a favor. I have uncles, aunts and cousins who live in Lowell and a half-brother by the name of Pat Murphy and he had four sons; Thomas and William McCarthy, and an aunt by the name of Anne McFarlin. All had large families. I have not heard from them for 25 years and would be very thankful to you for any information you could give me.

My mother's name was Bridget McCarthy and she married Pat Murphy. When he died she married Peter Rodgers and moved to the state of Missouri.

Yours truly,
MARGARET HERSHEY.

FORMER MIDDLEWEIGHT BOXING HEAVIES

BY FRED TURBYVILLE
N.E.A. Sports Writer

Jimmy Clabby, a star among middleweights here several years ago, is taking them all on in Australia, according to the latest letter from Snowy Baker, the famous promoter of the Antipodes. Jimmy is still a regular middleweight but game was scarce for Jimmy in that class and he's taking them all on as Jack Dillon did in this country a few years ago. Jimmy defeated George Cook, a heavyweight in a 20-round bout at Sydney. Cook was badly whipped by the clever Clabby. The American will next tackle Albert Lloyd, Australian heavyweight champion.

Another opponent for Lloyd will be Chuck Wiggins, one of the Tom Andrews stable now in Australia. Wiggins is a light heavyweight. He is from Indianapolis. Andrews has with him Eddie Kelly, lightweight; Joe Mooney, feather; Frankie Daley, bantam; Barney Snyder, flyweight; and Cliff Thomas, lightweight. They're getting plenty of fights.

Both Kelly and Mooney will box Lew Edwards, Australian lightweight champion who can also box in the featherweight class. Vince Blackburn will box Daley.

Baker writes that he has discovered a new "Darcy." The lad is a young heavyweight named Jim Jangle. Snowy says he is of the Dempsey type but is faster and has a more varied attack. He is still in his teens. The boxing game is going good in Australia. There will be many good bouts fought this winter. Baker expects some of the Australian champs to come through big and perhaps die.

mand matches with the American champions. Baker just now is trying to interest the boxing promoters of other countries in establishing international boxing control to regulate every angle of the sport.

The boxing world certainly has need for some sort of central control and if Snowy Baker was in America perhaps he could put the thing through. He is a high class sportsman in every sense of the word and a credit to the boxing game.

NAMES ON BALLOT AT THE CITY PRIMARIES

When the time for filling nomination papers for municipal office expired at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon it was found that a total of 27 candidates had lived up to the requirements in the matter of getting signatures and these 27 names will be on the ballot at the city primaries, one week from tomorrow, Tuesday, Nov. 18.

Nine of these candidates saw service in the world war, one of them as a Knights of Columbus secretary, one in the navy and the others in the army.

The list includes five candidates for mayor, ten for alderman and 12 for school committee. At the city primaries each voter will be legally entitled to vote for one candidate for mayor, two for alderman and two for school committee. Two candidates for mayor will be nominated, four for alderman and four for school committee, but voters are allowed to vote only for the number who are to be finally elected. Voting for more than this number invalidates a ballot.

The present office-holders whose terms expire this year are Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Commissioners James E. Donnelly and Charles J. Morse and school committee-men Richard Brabook Walsh and Dr. William R. Thompson. The latter two are not candidates for reelection.

Among the candidates which have not already been dealt with in detail are the following:

Daniel Cosgrove, 429 Gorham street, candidate for alderman, a provision dealer, member of the board of aldermen under the old form of government and a candidate for lieutenant governor on the hull moose ticket several years ago.

Cornelius Desmond, Jr., 195 Stockpole street, is a veteran of the world war who has never sought office before. He was at first confused with Cornelius Desmond, Sr. He is a candidate for alderman.

William H. Allen of 47 South Walker street is a candidate for the school committee. He has never aspired to public office before.

Thomas B. Delaney of 92 West street, a candidate for school committee, is an installer for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. and has never aspired for public office.

Dr. James H. Rooney, 238 Pine street, another school committee candidate, served in the navy during the war and as a dentist by profession. He previously served as a member of the board of registrars.

George F. Wessen of 15 Liberty street is a leather glazier who also aspires to the school committee. He never sought public office before.

List of Candidates
The complete list of candidates whose names will appear on the ballot at the city primaries is as follows:

FOR MAYOR

John J. Donovan.
John J. Gilbride.
James E. O'Donnell.

Poincare on Mission to England

PARIS, Nov. 10.—Considerable importance is attached by the press to the visit of President Poincare to England. According to Marcel Hating, writing in the Echo de Paris, the president and foreign Minister Pichon who accompanies him will discuss with Premier Lloyd George and Earl Curzon, British foreign secretary, questions relating to putting the peace treaty into effect, taking into account new dispositions by the United States. The Russian problem, according to the writer, especially in view of the recent utterances of Premier Lloyd George, will also be the subject of discussion.

TUFTS FRESHMEN EASY

Textile School Eleven Runs Wild and Scores Easy Victory, 27 to 0

The Lowell Textile school steam-rolling football eleven smothered Tufts Freshmen all over the Moody street campus Saturday afternoon and walked away at the long end of a 27 to 0 score. Another touchdown was batted off by the local team, but was disallowed when Tufts protested that the ball was fumbled before the halfback fell over the line and that the ball was not dead back of the goal posts as the referee first ruled.

At no time was the Lowell goal line threatened and although substitutes streamed onto the field from the Textile bench the offense did not seem to lose any of its punch and power. Textile started scoring in the first period, once in the second quarter and twice in the third. The touchdown which was ruled out came in the fourth period well along toward the close of the game.

Textile received the kickoff at the start of the game and never surrendered the ball until points had been chalked up. Marble drove most of his plays off the tackle but found the left side of the Tufts line weak and sent his backs spinning through the holes on a well thrown forward pass which Goulette picked out of the air on the goal line. Capt. Precourt kicked the goal.

Textile's kickoff was short and Tufts

ran the ball back to midfield. On the third play Tufts fumbled and Textile recovered. Failing to gain Textile punted and Tufts returned in kind. From a point in midfield Marble again got his plays running well and drove down to the three-yard mark when the period halted the march.

Second Period

On the first play Marker plunged through for the second touchdown and Precourt again kicked the goal. Several exchanges of punts followed the next kickoff and the half ended with the ball in Textile's possession on their own 30 yard line.

Third Period

Textile kicked off, but soon got the ball on downs when the Tufts' attack wilted. Lowell lost the ball on the first play when a fumble was picked up by a Tufts lineman. Tufts immediately punted. Marble made a fine recovery of one of his own fumbles and the ball then went back to Tufts when a forward pass was intercepted. Again the ball changed hands when Stevens left his feet and pulled down a Tufts forward pass on the 20 yard line. The march from there to the goal line was short and sweet, Lombard splitting the left side of the opposing line for the touchdown. Wentworth kicked the goal.

Textile again chose to kickoff and it was a wise decision, for another Tufts fumble was recovered on the 20 yard line and a series of line plays wound up with Lombard again shooting across for the fourth score. The goal was missed.

Fourth Period

The disputed touchdown came in the fourth period. Fountaine wheeled around left and was thrown on the goal line. The ball bounced from his arm and was picked up by a Tufts player who was dragged to earth after a short run. The referee first ruled that it was a touchdown, saying that Fountaine had fallen across the line and that the ball was dead before it broke away from him, but Tufts disputed and Textile declined to argue the point and allowed the official to change his decision. Wentworth tried a drop kick soon after, but it went wide and the game ended when Tufts put the ball in scrimmage on the 20 yard line.

Final score: Textile 27, Tufts Freshmen 0.

NOTES OF THE GAME

would show in her play room at home. Each passenger spent between 10 and 15 minutes in the air and each gladly would have doubled or trebled the time.

Those who took trips included: Harry Pitts, the Misses Danley, Pollard, Lowney, Larkin, Storey, Sullivan and "Jim" Boland, "Pat" Doherty, Paul Holmes, Bill Lester, Roy Gardner, "Pat" Rourke, "Joe" Sullivan, Victor Merridan, "Wally" Lyons, "Bob" Watson, Warren Churchill, Claude Winters, Cecil Pelton, Ralph Gerow, Andrew Dowd, Pearl May, Harry Copp, Sam Pouliot, Stewart Hunt, Hector Veltor, John Seymour, Calvin Hanley, Andrew McLaughlin, Mrs. Harry Pitts, Miss Eleanor Pitts and Miles Dallison.

During the day between 4000 and 5000 visitors flocked to Shattuck field and enjoyed the fun almost as much as the fliers. In the afternoon the Pitts em-played staged baseball and football games and informal sports. The sales room and supply station waged keen competition, the latter crowd winning the baseball game, 6 to 5. The girls took part in the contest and showed particular skill in "kissin' the old apple." The sales people also won the relay race, although the supply room had it all sewed up before Jim Boland fell on the last lap.

It was a day among days, the reddest on the whole calendar and will remain a pleasant memory for months to come.

SOMETHING ON HIP?

Must Pay for Privilege of Drinking it in Hotels

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—New York hotels have invented a new charge—

most respectable cheering section.

Marble handled the Textile team well, kept his men working all of the time and showed good judgment in his selection of plays. He was taken out for a while in the second period after receiving a nasty fall.

The game was notable for the lack of offside play and penalties, there being only two such inflected by the officials.

It is said that practically all of the year team will be back in school next year and if that is so, Textile should go out for bigger game. As the team stands today it is of college timber and deserves recognition as such.

Capt. Precourt at end is a strong wingman and gets down the field well on kicks.

The punting on both sides was disappointing, many of the boots carrying scarcely 30 yards.

Shukli, who replaced A. Goostree in the Textile line in the fourth quarter, broke through fast on his first play and battered down a Tufts punt. Fountaine fell on the ball as it bounded along near the 10-yard line.

Marker is a hard-hitting back, as is Lombard, who came from a tackle position to the backfield during the second half. Both men keep their feet well after striking the line and usually plough along for several yards after being tackled.

Anybody who has an idea that a Lowell Textile-Lowell High game would be a good contest for a whiff of the season is way out in left field. Such a game would be very liable to wind up high school's football for all time.

"corkage, one dollar." It means that hereafter men who enter a restaurant with a flask and women who secrete in their vanity cases a tiny tube loaded with a pre-prohibition cocktail must pay for the privilege of providing their own drinks. One hotel man explained last night that there is about as much drinking as ever in public dining halls, hence the corkage tax.

LOOKING FOR DOG KILLER
Lowell Humane society officers are searching for the autoist who, after striking and severely injuring a dog near Golden Cove, carried to St. Joseph's cemetery in his machine and left it there to die. The officers believe they have a clue to the man's identity and will prosecute the case to the limit if he can be found.

HERE TOMORROW NIGHT KULE FOR HARVARD

Tomorrow night the Crescent A.A. will stage a "victory boxing card," and judging from the comment heard around town a gate crowd will attend.

Chick Shiner, of Brooklyn, who fought a sensational 12 round bout with Barney Aulair at Johnny Cuddy's arena in Lawrence recently will meet Eddie May of Atlantown, N.J., in the main event. Shiner is a very satisfied boxer, and works every second "eat he is in the ring." While out-weighted by Aulair, he kept right after his opponent and when it came to swarming punches, he stood right in there and never backed away. Many Lowell fans saw that bout and they were very favorably impressed with Shiner's battling. May, while never seen here before, has performed at various New England clubs, and has always performed satisfactorily. He has been anxious to show here for some time, and once came here to perform, but the man he was scheduled to meet failed to show up and the bout was called off. He is in great condition and confident of victory, his manager writes. In the semi-final Young Drew and Mark Murphy, two classy performers, are booked. Both of these boys are well known to Lowell fans. Drew has appeared here on several occasions, while Murphy has performed at Lawrence, Boston and other places in the vicinity. There is considerable rivalry between the pair and a lively number is expected. There will be two six round preliminaries.

Fred Church, of Lowell, stepped squarely into Harvard's hall of foot ball fame Saturday afternoon when he booted over the goal from a touchdown which saved the Crimson from an eye-bash defeat at the hands of Princeton. It was no position for a man of weak nerves or questionable skill and all of Harvard's football hopes except those centered on the Yale game, hung on the broad toe of Fred's right shoe.

When the Lowell Church went back to make his try for goal his team was trailing the Tiger, 10 to 9 and on his ability to come through in this great act of pinches hinged the result of a bitterly fought game. Quoting from Bert Whitman, regarding the play: "Fred Church measured the angle carefully, slighted his body and then cut loose his placement kick drive; the ball shooting up and between the uprights and tying a game which surely means more to all Harvard men than many and many a victory. For today the untired, untested, unreliable crimson team, playing unknown quantities, found itself, went down through the valley of desolation, but kept its eyes toward the light and eventually came through."

That unerring kick was not the only thing young Church did in Palmer stadium in one of the grandest football contests ever waged for his very presence in the Harvard backfield gave Princeton another fast man to watch and another, drew the attention of the Tiger from Natick Eddie Casey and made it possible for this second Mahan to fight his way over to the touchdown which ultimately meant a tie game.

INDIANS CRUSH NEPONSET TEAM

Under perfect weather conditions and before a large sized crowd the Indians took the measure of the Neponset Wanderers on the old Fair grounds yesterday afternoon by the score of 13 to 0. Darius' caused the game to be limited to three periods, but during the minutes of play the Indians rolled over two touchdowns and scored one goal from a touchdown.

The Indian ends, Cahill and Donnellan played a slashing game, while Gleason and McIntyre knifed through the Neponset line time after time for long gains. Lineup and summary: Indians—Cahill, lb; Boland, lt; Gleason, lg; Riley, c; Young, rg; Foster, qb; McIntyre, rb; Turner, rhb; Gleason, fb; Neponset—Walsh, re; Locke, rt; Thomas, rg; Thoreson, c; Whitmarsh, lg; Savage, lt; Larkin, lb; W. POLO GAME HERE

The American Roller Polo League will observe Armistice day tomorrow, with double headers in several of the cities. The fast traveling Lawrence team, which has been going like a house afire since Duke Dufresne joined the club, will play at Lowell in the afternoon. When Dufresne donned a Lawrence uniform, the team was in a rut, and had undisputed possession of the cellar. But the "duke" injected the necessary pep into the team, and the club went out and won six straight. Lowell plays at Lawrence tonight, and when the teams clash here tomorrow a hotly contested battle is expected. The last time Lawrence played here, the locals were defeated. But that was before Dufresne and O'Brien became members of the respective teams. A large delegation of Lawrence fans is planning to accompany the team to Lowell, and with both clubs strengthened and eager upon as a pretty evenly matched pair, the old rivalry is bound to return. The other afternoon games tomorrow are New Bedford at Fall River, and Salem at Worcester. The evening games are Providence at Lawrence, Worcester at Salem and Fall River at New Bedford.

SCHOOLS REOPEN
FOOTBALL SERIES

Lawrence and Haverhill high schools re-opened football relations at O'Sullivan park on Saturday after a lapse of seven years. Lawrence came by took a 31 to 0 beating and the result furnished food for thought for Lowell inasmuch as both teams appear on Coach Conway's schedule within the next two weeks. Lawrence comes to Spaulding park, while Haverhill is next away from home. As Lowell tied Woburn, 1 to 7, and Lawrence posted out Woburn, 7 to 6, that game looks like a toss-up, but the Haverhill contest is in a state of uncertainty.

The local eleven plays the hard-working Vocational school team at Spaulding park tomorrow forenoon. Armistice day, and the high school teams are not under any great obligations, who possess a lot of spirit and fight. The game is called for 10 o'clock.

LOWELL WINS
FROM SALEM

LAWRENCE, Nov. 10.—Lawrence defeated Salem, 5 to 4, in a hotly contested game here Saturday night. The locals got three through in the first period, with Salem blanked. In the second round, Salem scored one—the only point of the period. Lawrence hammered through a brace as the third number opened, after which the Whites got the ball rolling to desire for a sequence of three bullies. Just when a tie score threatened, the ending gong sounded. Dugan and Dufresne were the Lawrence action boys, and Williams and Hardy excelled for Salem. The lineup, score and summary:

WORCESTER 4, NEW BEDFORD 3

WORCESTER, Nov. 10.—A rush to the spot and a crash at the pellet decided the Worcester-New Bedford game in Worcester's favor, to 4 to 3 here Saturday night. Under the rules, a foul is made when a rusher hits the ball without the sounding whistle from the referee. The score was 4 to 1, and New Bedford had made two fouls in this game, when Hart races for the spot. Taylor of the Worcester team, was unprepared, so Referee Carroll did not sound the starting whistle, and instead of passing by the round object which under the rules he was required to do, Hart slammed it full force.

PROVIDENCE 9, FALL RIVER 4

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 10.—Hundreds of fans were turned away Saturday night from the Providence-Fall River game at the Providence Club. The place was packed to the rafters. Providence won, 9 to 4. The Gold Bugs got away in fine fashion, and after securing the lead, they kept it, with the visitors vainly trying to hold them back. Red Williams and Legs Thompson were the stars for Providence. Their attack was as brilliant as fans have seen in this city, and although Fred Jean worked every artifice in his store, they were not to be denied. Williams made the season's record for rushing, at 15. Fall River lost a goal on fouls. Cusick making four in a row.

POLO NOTES

Lowell and Lawrence set the pace in the league race last week, each winning three games and losing one.

Fall River won two games and lost one in the week's play, while New Bedford won three and lost two. Providence, Worcester and Salem were on the long end of one out of four games.

One of the big features of the hot race is the remarkable improvement in the playing of young players of Lowell. He is developing fast under the capable direction of Harkins and Griffith, two of the best combination players in the business. Another factor in Lowell's success is the presence of O'Brien in the lineup. He is a big, strong, experienced man, and has filled the hole in the Lowell defense. While a little over weight, he fitted right in with the Lowell combination, and is bound to prove a tower of strength as the season progresses.

Dugan and Dufresne are proving a great combination down in Lawrence, and to them is due the great spirit made during the past few weeks. Lawrence fans are now claiming the pennant.

ABBOT SOCCER STARS
PICK OFF THISTLES

The Abbot Worsted Co. soccer team went to Lawrence Saturday afternoon and defeated the Thistles, 3 to 2, at Glen Essex grounds. Clegg played a whole of a game for Abbot and scored twice. FOOTBALL GAME

The Indians will play the strong Hyde Park A. A. on the old fair grounds tomorrow morning. The game will start at 10:30 o'clock. Both teams will present their strongest lineups and a red hot contest is expected. The Indians are enjoying a great season and the team is now one of the strongest independent eleven in the state. The acquisition of "Che" Young was a ten strike. He's a powerful fellow, and knows the game thoroughly. Young Lourell, who recently returned from overseas, is playing well at quarterback. McIntyre and Donnellan, who have starred for the team for several years are in top form. Gleason at full back is playing wonderful football and his plunges through the opposing lines have brought many gains. He carried the ball well, Coughlin and all the other members of the outfit are showing high class work.

BIG PATRIOTIC SERVICE

First Anniversary of Signing of Armistice Observed, at Congregational Church

A service in celebration of the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice, combined with a welcome-home program for the army and navy men of the parish was held at the First Congregational church last evening and the large assembly heard splendid addresses by Mayor Perry D. Thompson and Rev. Chauncey H. Hawkins, D.D., pastor. An augmented choir furnished spirited music for the occasion and Mrs. P. L. Roberts, as soloist, sang several rousing patriotic tunes. The congregation also joined in the singing of many of the songs made popular during the days of war.

Mayor Thompson assured the service men of the church that Lowell is proud of their splendid achievements and never will forget their sacrifices in the cause of human liberty. "It is quite appropriate," he said, "that a church should celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the armistice, for we all agree that the cause was just and was guided and directed by an unseen hand."

Dr. Hawkins said in part:

"I am going to speak tonight not in flattering language to our young men in the service, because I have learned by experience that they do not like to be flattered. They like to get off their uniforms as soon as possible, and to have as little said about it as possible."

"Because the world is small and because the world is one, the law of the parable of the Good Samaritan is no longer a law for the individual, but a law that must govern the relations of the nations upon the earth. We learned that tremendous fact through the struggle. Are we going to forget it? Did our boys rush to France simply because there was a dramatic incident that centered attention on that one thing, or are we going to recognize the law of mutual service for all time?"

"Yonder stands Armenia, crying out to America to come over there and assume a protectorate. Are we as Americans going to sit back in our complacency and let Armenia be put to the dagger of the Turk until there are no Armenians alive? I very much fear that with the attitude of congress, and especially the senate, today, unless the voice of America makes itself felt with tremendous power, we shall not assume the responsibility."

"We have learned also that we cannot leave any nation of the earth today not Christian, and have the world safe. Let Germany have conscription! and France has got to have it. Let Germany wallow in ideas of materialism, and she will drag the other nations down. The whole world today has got to go upward, or the whole world has got to perish. It is one vision before us today, the whole world one for the Christian ideal, or the whole world suffering."

"There is only one way, and we are going to learn it by the time we have a few more red revolutions. That way is Christianity. Science cannot do it, because science has no conscience. Science is neutral in the world of morals."

It costs the farmers of the United States $1,000,000 a year for the gradual washing away of their lands.

TOLEDO STREET CARS SPIRITED AWAY

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Ten to 50 cents was the rate of fare Toledo citizens paid today to get to their places of employment. The second day of no street cars found, city officials determined to fight to a finish the avowed effort of the Toledo railways & Light Co. to effect repeal of the ouster ordinance passed by a vote of the people at the election last Tuesday.

City officials reiterated their stand at yesterday that the ordinance would not be repealed, nor the company given a franchise, because Henry L. Doherty of New York, head of the concern which controls the local traction company, spirited the cars into Michigan before daylight on Sunday morning without notice to the public.

A resolution will be introduced in the common council tonight looking to the repeal of the ouster ordinance. It is understood that the councilmen will vote against repeal. It is pointed out that should it be repealed it would have to be submitted to the voters and law authorities have not yet found a way in which a special election could be held under the terms of the city charter.

Frank R. Coates, president of the traction company, declared today that the cars will be returned and service resumed only when the ouster ordinance is repealed and the company is given a franchise.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come:

THE STRAND
Two film features of extraordinary merit are scheduled for presentation on The Strand screen for the first three days of the week, commencing with matinee today. Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese star, will be seen in the Japanese Painter, a novel and highly artistic production in which this unusually talented actor is seen in new fields of screen endeavor. The piece is most artistically handled and the story is carried out in a masterly way. You will surely like the play and the player. Viola Dana, the captivating screen comedienne in "Please Get Married," in another of those amusing comedy dramas that has all of the elements that go in the making of this brand of high-class entertainment. Miss Dana is seen in an entirely new role and she handles it to all. Besides the above there will be one of those Vitaphone comedies and a Universal Weekly containing all of the most interesting and instructive views on current events of the week. There will be other features, but the above are the chief ones that contribute to a program of real merit. For the last three days Dustin Farnum in "A Man in the Open," and Gladys Brockwell in "Chasing Rainbows."

OPERA HOUSE
Messrs. Buckley & Schaeke, through their resident manager, Charles E. Cook, take extreme pleasure in announcing for the present week's production by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, the new play written by their leading man, John Meehan, entitled "A Man's Job." The play is a romantic drama of a man who has been a soldier and a soldier of fortune. The recent world war events, with particular reference to the part taken by the United States in it, form the background on which the actor-author has written what is said to be an unusually interesting and entertaining play. "The fact that it has been a dollar-a-week production, and that it has been produced on Broadway next spring, speaks volumes of its worth as a stage offering. Mr. Meehan has written several successful plays, including "The Very Minute," which was bought outright by David Belasco, and is due for production in New York next year.

"A Man's Job" has its scenes laid in America and the action, which is swift and of the sure-fire variety, is also carried on in this country. An American girl, with real blood running through her veins, who has been a soldier of fortune, and a young American soldier of fortune are the principal figures about which the play moves. There are other excellent characterizations that contribute to a decidedly well-balanced and selected cast. There is a strong love story attached to it and a pleasant blending of all elements that go in the making of a genuinely good production. Miss Fields, the talented leading woman, will appear in the stellar female role, and Mr. Meehan will be seen in the adventurous Bob Simms. J. Francis Kirk, the director, promises a production the equal of any ever attempted in this or any other city of the east.

A big advance sale is already recorded. Be wise and order your tickets well in advance. Tel. 251. Remember tomorrow is a holiday.

THE OWL THEATRE
While "The Right to Happiness," now being played at The Owl theatre, contains the accustomed love themes of the affection between man and his mate, there is another character of love vastly superior in volume—the love of a girl for a humanity that she does not know how to benefit. She sees Utopia gained through the sword and the torch, feeling that the result justifies the means.

Some remarkable spectacular effects have been obtained in the film. One of these is a vivid picture of a Cossack program in old St. Petersburg nineteen years ago, against the Jewish population. Another is an attack on the palatial home of an American millionaire by a mob of half-crazed, radical workmen, led by the millionaire's own daughter.

Two of the love themes of the story are exquisitely sweet, one is amusingly rapid and the other would be repulsive were it not so delicately handled. Dorothy Phillips, the star, in the depiction of a dual role, is deserving of unlimited praise for her success. She portrays the part of a Russian-reared girl who becomes a radical leader, swaying the masses by the force of her incendiary eloquence, and she is seen as Vivian, daughter of an American millionaire, who sees life only in terms of self-gratification.

In her support are William Stowell and Robert Anderson, both of whom have imported male parts in "The Heart of Humanity."

Backache only a Symptom

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women.

For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring American women to health.

The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Coventry

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and legs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine, and I tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking it to their advantage. You may use my name for a testimonial." — Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnet St., Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Hunt tells how it helped her
Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at any time." — Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 171 Davison Ave.

FR. MCNEIL GOES TO BRIDGEWATER

Rev. Francis McNeil, for the past two and a half years a curate at St. Columba's church, this city, has been transferred to St. Thomas Aquinas' church, Bridgewater, and will leave tomorrow to take up his new duties. He bade his farewell to members of the parish at the late mass yesterday.

Rev. Fr. McNeil has been one of the most popular young priests to come to Lowell and his departure will be felt keenly by the members of St. Columba's parish, especially among the younger members. His duties as head of the parish Sunday school and various other parish activities in which the younger people have been interested brought him in close touch with them. Hardly less regret is expressed by the older members of the parish who have come to look upon Fr. McNeil as a most capable assistant to their pastor, Rev. Patrick J. Italy.

Rev. Fr. McNeil was ordained about 12 years ago and came to Lowell from St. Vincent's church, South Boston. His home is in Somerville. His successor at St. Columba's has not yet been announced.

"Never Has to Call a Doctor—Bathes Internally"

Mr. J. E. McNeil, P. O. Box 217, Globe, Ariz., writes to the Tyrrell Health Institute:

"I have been using the J. E. McNeil's 'Cascarets' for the past twenty-five years and call it our cheap family physician for the reason that I have never had to call in a physician to treat one of the family. What a pity more of our human race are not acquainted with the virtues of the Cascarets in a family!"

The "J. E. McNeil's" cleanses the lower intestines free of poisons, wasps, indigestion, stomach troubles, biliousness, headaches and all the many serious troubles which they cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Natural Treatment.

McNeil's stores, formerly Riker-Jaynes, will be glad to show you the "J. E. McNeil's" explain its simple operation and will give you a free copy of the "Tyrrell's Health Book" by Dr. Chas. Tyrrell of New York, a noted specialist on internal bathing for 25 years in that city. Clip this out as a reminder to ask for the booklet at your first opportunity—adv.

AUTO SLASHES STONE FRONT

In order to avoid striking another automobile A. R. Corey of Ayer, operating a seven-passenger touring car, turned his machine on the sidewalk and crashed through the store front of Steinberg at the corner of Middlesex and Pearl streets late last evening. The automobile was tilted with soldiers, but fortunately no one was injured.

Corey claims that he was en route to Ayer with the soldiers and when he reached the corner of Middlesex and Pearl streets an automobile which was slightly in advance of his machine, turned from Middlesex street without signaling, forcing Corey to drive his car to the left over the sidewalk. Corey's machine became wedged in the store front and was allowed to remain there obstructing the sidewalk in Pearl street until this forenoon.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS
CONFER AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Republican national committee members from a dozen states held an informal conference here today for the purpose of discussing plans for the presidential campaign of 1920.

National Chairman Will H. Hays, who presided, said the chief object of the conference was to make preliminary arrangements for the meeting of the full committee next month in Washington, when the place for holding the national convention will be chosen.

Although no action looking to the selection of the convention city can be taken by the conference, representatives from St. Louis and Chicago were present to urge favorable consideration of their respective cities.

Among others at the conference were vice chairman of the national committee John T. Adams of Iowa; Secretary James B. Reynolds of Massachusetts; John T. King of Connecticut; A. T. Hoff, Kentucky and Rudolph K. Hyndman of Ohio.

TO PRESERVE FORESTS

Large Appropriation for Benefit of New Hampshire and Merrimack River

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—Senator Keyes of New Hampshire has introduced a bill for preservation of the White Mountain forests along the lines of the Weeks bill which has expired.

Mr. Keyes asks for an appropriation of $10,000,000 to be available at the rate of $2,000,000 a year for five years for purchase of forest land in the eastern states. Mr. Keyes urges it as a means of protecting navigable streams and timber land. He is a member of the committee on agriculture and will make every effort to have his bill passed by congress. The headwaters of the Merrimack river are in the White Mountain reserve.

ALLIED BAZAAR WAS BIG SUCCESS

Successful beyond the hopes of its sponsors, the allied bazaar at the First Primitive Methodist church—which has been in nightly session since Wednesday evening to raise money for the building fund of the church—came to a close Saturday evening. The features of the night were a bean supper, served by the women of the church, and an up-to-the-minute entertainment under the direction of John Pooler.

Among the local artists who appeared in the program were Miss Helen Smith, Mrs. John Toms, William Booth, Herbert Ashton, Miss Alice Steele, Charles Nell, Stephen Ashton, Joseph E. Whelding, H. Graham Pascale, Mrs. Jenkins, Miss Isa Smith, Miss Grace Mahoney, James Smith, Miss Esther Alkinson, Edward B. Smith, Charles Pierce and John Pooler. Rev. P. B. Nordgren of the Swedish Lutheran church acted as chairman of the evening.

HALLOWEEN PRANK

Boys Set Trap for Tewksbury Man

It was only a Halloween prank, but it had a serious sequel in police court today.

Two Tewksbury boys, Tony Furtadi and Jesse Lebonite, had skillfully stretched a rope across William Davenport's piazza on the evening of ghosts and goblins, according to the testimony.

Then they rang Mr. Davenport's doorbell with might and main. Mr. Davenport came out and tripped over the rope. The tripping aforesaid resulted in many and various bruises to Mr. Davenport.

Mr. Davenport thought that Harry Springman, a youth in that vicinity, was responsible.

He so alleged to the police, and Harry faced a charge of assault and battery today as a consequence.

After hearing the stories of "those present," Judge Enright ordered Springman discharged, and stated that the two boys, Furtadi and Lebonite, must answer in juvenile court for their share in the affair.

BAPTISTS RAISE $1000

To help make up a half million dollars needed by the Baptist denomination throughout the country to meet the conditions on which John D. Rockefeller has promised to give $2,000,000 for Baptist missionary work, members of the First Baptist church raised $1000 at the morning and evening services yesterday.

MISSOURI WOMEN IN POLITICS

The annual conference of the Missouri State Suffrage Association held in Saint Louis voted to turn itself into the Missouri League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan organization for progressive legislation. Its first act voiced a demand that women be invited and permitted to participate in all matters connected with choosing delegates for the coming national conventions of their parties.

Among others, the convention put itself on record as favoring these things:

Calling a state convention for the purpose of providing a new constitution for the state of Missouri;

A budget system for national, state and city governments;

A reform in the system of state taxation.

LADIES OF CHARITY
HOLD MEETING

The Ladies of Charity of St. John's hospital held a regular meeting yesterday to discuss plans for the incorporation of the organization as a permanent society and its affiliation with a similar organization in France. It had been intended to hold the election of officers yesterday but this was postponed owing to the other business which came up. Miss Rose A. Dowd was in the chair and there was a large attendance. Preceding the business meeting there was benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I.

600 New Policemen on Duty in Hub

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Six hundred new policemen were officially reported on regular duty here today. They were successful applicants for positions made vacant by the strike of 1100 members of the department last September. The number of men still in training for police work was not disclosed, but the civil service commission has announced the certification of more than 1000, mostly former service men, since the general recruiting began. There are 2800 state guardsmen still on duty here, or about half the number called into service when the strike began. Further reductions in the guardsmen's forces are expected shortly.

Berlin Communist Quarters Raided

BERLIN, Sunday, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Berlin was covered with snow on the occasion of the first anniversary of the revolution. The day passed without a single disturbance, the meetings held in all sections of the city being only moderately attended. Communist headquarters were raided by the authorities today, the troops seizing red literature and maps showing division of Berlin into 18 communist districts.

Armistice Day Will Mark the Birth of World Democracy

"SLUTE YOUR DADDY!"

BY HENRY D. LINDSLEY

Chairman National Executive Committee The American Legion

November 11 will become a national holiday in the United States.

It will also become the first great international patriotic holiday for a large part of the world.

It is inevitable that those powers which, in alliance, fought the German empire and brought victory to the democracies of the earth, select a common day on which all of their peoples will join in the celebration of victory.

November 11, "Armistice day," therefore, will be unique in history. Hundreds of millions of people throughout the world will look forward to its coming. Every continent will contribute to its celebration. People of widely different habits, history and religion, will understand that this day brought to a close the mightiest war the world has ever seen, and that on it the free peoples of the earth knew that their right to work out their respective destinies had become the determined purpose of the world.

In no country can Nov. 11 have greater meaning than in the United States. The ideals of democracy have largely become a world force because of the American republic.

The international annual celebration of November 11 will bind together the peoples of the world, will help promote a common understanding among them, and will make easier the efforts of those who, in years to come, strive for peace and good will among all mankind.

In the celebration of Armistice day in the United States we have the right to hope that the sacrifices of our country in the great war will in measure be compensated for by an annual rebirth of patriotism and a national understanding of what a republic means and what is necessary for a people to do for its prevention.

There should be some national anniversary day on which the elimination of class distinction within a republic would be emphasized. We should not celebrate Armistice day if it has this meaning in a perfunctory manner, nor should we accept thoughtlessly the admonitions which will annually occur on this national holiday and which are intended to make us live back into Nov. 11, 1918. The living forces which create the national holiday should be a part of each of its recurrences, and the baptism of blood which consecrated Nov. 11, 1918, should serve as a benediction to those annual days which for it will be celebrated thereafter.

the elementary schools the exercises were confined to the various classrooms. Stories of the heroes of the conflict, notable dates in the struggle and its effect on modern history were discussed by the teachers and pupils.

High School Program

Owing to the incapacity of the high school hall to take care of the entire membership of the school at one time, the Armistice day exercises at that school were held twice today. The students of the main building went to the hall at 11:20 and those in the annexes shortly after 12 o'clock. The following program was carried out in each instance with Frederick R. Woodward, acting headmaster, presiding:

Entrance March

Selections by the Mandolin club
Reading: "American For Me," Amy French, 1920
Reading: "Universal Peace," William McCann, 1921
Selections by the Mandolin club
Address: General Gardner W. Pearson, Singing of America by the school.
Legion Hall Tonight

The American Legion, Lowell post, will hold its first formal social function this evening in Associate hall when it will stage a ball in observance of Armistice day. The veterans have been working on the affair for months and look forward to a big success. Arrangements have been made to accommodate an exceptionally large crowd.

Tomorrow evening Company K Associates will stage a dance at the Community club in Dutton street in observance of the holiday, and this also is scheduled to bring out a large crowd.

In the Churches

A number of the local churches will observe Armistice day with special services tomorrow. In the Protestant churches services were held yesterday in commemoration of departed heroes, but many of the Catholic churches will hold their memorial services tomorrow.

Members of the Young Men's Catholic Lyceum are to have a high mass of requiem said at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for the members of the organization who lost their lives on the battlefield. The honor roll of the C.Y.M.L. contains two gold stars, one for Edward Quinn and the other for Charles Wallace.

As part of the tribute of the South End section of the city to their heroes of the world war high masses of requiem will be celebrated in the three Catholic churches of that section at 9 o'clock. The memorial masses will be said at St. Peter's, St. Anthony's and the Sacred Heart churches. Large congregations are expected in each instance. At the Gorham street Primitive Methodist church yesterday South End heroes were also honored by memorial services conducted under the direction of the pastor, Rev. N. W. Matthews. These four church services were requested by the committee in charge of the South End celebration as a fitting part of the observance of Armistice day.

The local aerle of Eagles will hold their annual flag day exercises tomorrow evening in their hall in Central street and the program has been arranged so as to serve also as an observance of Armistice day.

The various theatres will stage special programs for the holidays and the local dance halls will provide a source of entertainment both afternoon and evening.

The mills of the city will remain open for those of their employees who wish to work, but the larger downtown stores will be closed all day. Provision stores will be open for a short time in the forenoon.

Not Like Last Year

This year's observance of Armistice day will not be characterized by the lively features that were in evidence a year ago when the first news of the ending of the war came to the city. It was early Monday morning that the glad tidings were flashed to the world and immediately upon receipt of the news Lowell people threw down the worries and cares of everyday life and began a celebration that lasted 48 hours with hardly a let-up. Mill operatives who had left their homes with the intention of starting another week's work suddenly lost all desire for such mundane activity.

The day was given over to a series of sporadic parades that sprang up without warning in all parts of the city. Bands were hired and gave impromptu concerts in various parts of the city. Community sing leaders were kept busy directing the exuberant crowds in the intricacies of victory songs. Then came the word that the governor had made the next day, Tuesday, a holiday and Mayor Thompson outlined a program for the formal observance that ended with a big street parade in the afternoon.

The Thursday before the real news came, a bogus report was sent out that the armistice had been signed and the employees of the Billerica car shops immediately paraded from the Middlesex street station to city hall where exercises were held. But it was on Nov. 11, 1918, that the city saw its most enthusiastic celebration.

before the country as an unequalled endorser of the strike of the soft coal miners and as bitterly opposed to the action of the government in attempting to end the strike through injunction proceedings. The government's action is characterized as "so atrocious as to stagger the human mind."

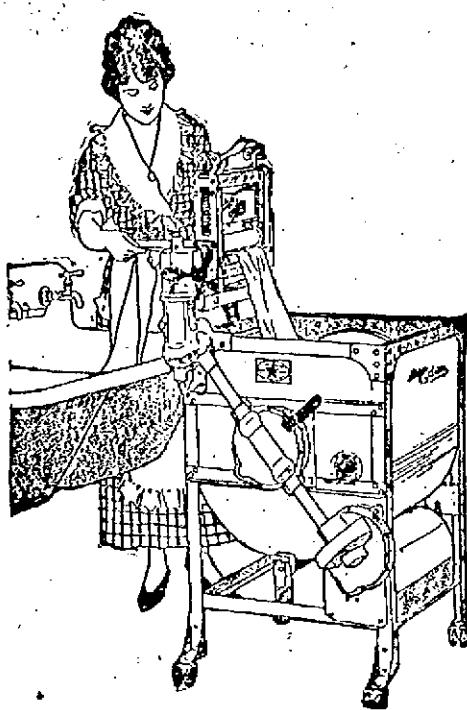

Indorsement of the strike was announced last night in a statement issued by the executive council of the federation which pledged to the strikers the full support of organized labor and appealed to the citizenship of the country to give like "indorsement and aid to the men engaged in this momentous struggle."

After going into the history of events leading up to the strike and since, the statement declared the course of the government in securing a court order at Indianapolis, Saturday, directing officials of the miners' organization to call off the strike by tomorrow night, an invasion of the right of the miners and demanded the withdrawal of the injunction. Use of the Lever act under which the court proceedings were instituted was severely condemned as an injustice to all liberty loving Americans. After declaring that "by all the facts in the case the miners' strike is justified; we indorse it; we are convinced of the justice of the miners' cause," the statement concluded with the appeal to all citizens to support the strikers and promised support of organized labor.

The action was taken without the participation of William Green, general secretary of the Mine Workers who is a member, but all the remaining principal officers of the A. F. of L. were present.

The council began its sessions at 3 o'clock after its members had been hastily summoned, and the statement which formulated its action was carefully revised and re-written by Samuel Gompers and Frank Morrison, president and secretary respectively, of the federation.

There were 2200 delegates, representing 500,000 miners, seated in the convention which called the strike, the statement said, after briefly sketching complaints of working conditions in the industry which, it is asserted, the miners seek to remedy by striking. The instructions of the convention were taken through the usual committees into conference with the operators and then, the statement puts it, "our government interjected itself and applied for an injunction."

The statement characterized the action as "invasion of the rights of the miners," intended to starve the miners into submission by cutting off their strike benefits, and demanded the withdrawal of the injunction secured Saturday at Indianapolis "to restore confidence in the institutions of our country and respect to courts."

UNION OFFICIALS

ACT ON COURT ORDER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—Officials of the united mine workers of America including Acting President John L. Lewis and secretary-treasurer William Green and members of the executive council, met here today to discuss Judge Anderson's order issued on Saturday directing the union heads to call off the strike order. At the meeting were district presidents, members of the executive board of the organization and the entire personnel of the miners' scale committee.

Members of the general committee, who arrived last night and early this morning, would not comment on the situation.

The majority of the miners' officials seemed to take their cue from the statement issued last night by John L. Lewis, acting president of the mine workers, in which he said "statements to the effect that I shall or shall not comply with the mandatory proceedings of the injunction writ are unauthorized, and premature."

Reports from the various coal fields since the strike was called indicate that many union men contend that the general committee of the miners has no authority to rescind the order for the strike which, they assert, was decided upon by the regular convention of the united mine workers, meeting in Cleveland in September.

It was not known this morning what action was contemplated by the government in the event that the recall order should be issued by the general committee but not obeyed by individually members of the union. A list, however, was given during the proceedings in the United States district court Saturday when Judge Anderson said "the Lever act makes it an unlawful conspiracy for two or more persons to arrange to limit the production of coal. That is perfectly apparent to me. Everybody knows that."

No action, it said, is planned by the government until after the time limit set by Judge Anderson for the issuance of the strike recall order. Meanwhile, attorneys for the union were said to be busy preparing their case for an appeal to the United States Circuit court of Appeals in Chicago.

To Urge Pay Increase for Naval Officers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Sufficient personnel for all dreadnaughts and cruisers of the navy are now in the service, Secretary Daniels today told a house naval sub-committee. The secretary was discussing widely-circulated reports that many first line ships were laid up at navy yards because of a lack of officers and crews. Mr. Daniels conceded that there was a shortage of machinists and said the chief cause of the failure of the navy to obtain high grade men through voluntary enlistment was the high pay offered for service on merchant ships. The secretary said it was his intention to recommend increased pay for officers, but he was unable to present his plan today, the committee session being cut short by a call of the house.

Drys Lead by But 45 Votes

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Fate of the federal prohibition amendment was made more uncertain today as additional official returns were tabulated at the office of the secretary of state. The official returns from 86 of the 88 counties tabulated at noon gave the drys a lead of only 45 votes in favor of the amendment.

Discuss Right of Berger to Hold Seat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Discussion of the right of Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee socialist, whose appeal from conviction under the espionage act is now pending, to retain his seat in congress, began in the house today after an effort by Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, to delay the proceedings was defeated by a vote of 279 to 1.

JOHN J.
Donovan
—FOR—MAYOR

An Open Letter—

Among the privates and non-commissioned officers of A. E. F. in active service, Sergeant John J. Donovan is said to have been the oldest man. Indeed, if there are others of the A. E. F. boasting of fifty years of age or more, the writer hasn't seen it so stated; and he's got to be shown. At any rate it is a distinction that Sergeant Donovan could well be proud of; but it's a sure thing his friends are.

While Sergeant Donovan was still in France his name was linked with the majority of Lowell. Upon his return, and ever since the evidence of a growing and insistent demand that he announce his candidacy was unmistakable. It came from among all conditions and classes in the community. Since he has announced his candidacy he is in the fight to win and will employ every honorable method to that end.

Eighteen years a police officer, John J. Donovan knows something of the police business, whose first function is that of protecting the person and property of the people of Lowell.

He feels as do his fellow citizens, that the time has come to reorganize the police department of the City of Lowell on the basis of the Square Deal and Efficiency.

As a candidate for Mayor of the City of Lowell and the strong probability of his success in that role, the citizens of Lowell should know the man they vote for. We think they do know him; for here, where he has practically lived all his life, he counts his friends and acquaintances by the thousands.

He is a man's man—sincere, honorable and just. He is a man of the people and he stands for the people. His alma mater is life's rough school with its ups and downs, its knocks and its rewards, and he loves it. John J. Donovan arrives at past 50 years of age, wearing nobody's hat but his own—and that hat is in the ring. His intelligence is broad, his judgment is sound, while his honesty and patriotism are unquestioned.

The citizens of Lowell feel that the time is ripe to relegate small men of doubtful principles and little ability to the rear, and to invite upon real men and real principles in our local government. Inductively they are turning to men like JOHN J. DONOVAN to lead in a fight for decent and capable conduct of the city's business.
